IN THE BEE TO-DAY

Department of Agriculture,
Weather Bureau,
Toledo, Wednesday, March 16.

The local forecast for to-day is flurries of snow, much colder at night.

For Thursday, colder, fair, warmer at night.

Weather Conditions.

The area of high barometer still continues in the northwest, with its cold weather accompaniment. The temperature has begun to fall in Northern Minnesota and Dakota. The fall will be sudden and will hardly last a day. A temperature of 10 degrees or lower is expected in this vicinity Thursday morning.

The weather conditions are good throughout the country except in the winter wheat region, where the temperature ranges from 20 degrees above, in Kansas, to 18 degrees below zero in Northern Dakota. The lowest temperature reported was 22 degrees below in Manitoba; the highest was 54 degrees at Jacksonville, Fla.

The highest temperature in Toledo yesterday was 29 degrees; the lowest this morning was 17 degrees. The zero line extends southward through Montana and Wyoming, thence eastward through Lakes Michigan and Huron to Quebec province. Cold weather may be expected at this point until Saturday.

TIFFIN'S TRAGEDY.

Further Particulars of the Awful Affair.

Disappointment and Jealousy the Cause

Of Walter A. Snyder's Desperate Deed.

Peculiar Circumstances Surrounding the Case.

A Note Left By the Dead Man Indicates That His Crime Was Done With Insane Deliberation.

Tiffin, O., March 16.—(Special)—The terrible tragedy which so shocked this usually quiet city yesterday is still the general topic of conversation, to the exclusion of every other matter, and even to the suspension of business. Everywhere, on the streets and in the stores, little knots of citizens are discussing the shooting, and no one thinks of anything else.

The story of the affair is substantially as printed in the Bee yesterday, though there are many peculiar circumstances connected with it, and an air of mystery surrounds the causes which led up to the shooting, that will probably never be cleared.

Walter A. Snyder, the man who made such a desperate effort to murder two of his employers, a fellow clerk and then sent a bullet through his own heart, is a middle-aged man, of the highest character, and has been connected with the large hardware house of J. M. Naylor ever since the war. He was the confidential clerk of the concern, one of Tiffin's most respected citizens and from his earnings had saved considerable money, which was all well invested.

He had just completed a handsome residence at a cost of about $5,000 and expected to move into it with his mother, sister and aunt in the spring.

From investigations by a Bee, the facts of the tragedy are about as follows: Snyder arose yesterday morning, seemingly considerably down hearted, he ate but little breakfast, then bade his mother, who was ill, a most affectionate farewell and started for the store earlier than usual, giving no intimation of the terrible deed he was about to commit. From the further developments it is evident, however, that he had premeditated the crime and upon reaching the store took a 38-calibre, Smith & Wesson, double action revolver out of the show case and without removing the price tag, loaded it with cartridge, also from the stock, and put several extra ones in his pocket.

A few minutes later Edward T. Naylor, Burton W. Crobaugh, members of the firm, and other clerks arrived and business proceeded as usual, no one noticing anything peculiar in Snyder's actions, as he appeared cheerful as usual.

About 8 o'clock John Snook, an expressman, brought a box of electrical appliances, which were for Snyder, and after some conversation regarding this, Mr. Crobaugh began examining some iron on the floor.

The tragedy followed immediately.

Mr. Crobaugh, one of the victims, makes a statement as follows: "I was stooping over, with my back toward Snyder, when without a word being said I heard two shots and instantly felt the sting of a bullet in my back. As I whirled around I saw that Naylor was also shot and before a move could be made Snyder raised his revolver at Tom Downey, another clerk, and with the words, 'Now Tom it's your turn next,' he fired three shots into him.

Crobaugh and Downey fled the room and went into a clothing store near by, where they afterwards received medical attendance.

Naylor ran into another part of the store and sank down just as people began to rush in from the street.

Snyder ran up stairs and a few minutes later was found in a back room with a bullet in his heart. He gasped his last just as several men rushed into the room and snatched the weapon from his dying grasp.

As the revolver had only five chambers and he had already fired that number of shots he must have loaded it after going up stairs. When the revolver was taken from him, four of the chambers were empty and there was one empty shell in the other.

When Snyder's body was searched a scrap of paper was found in one of his pockets on which was hastily scribbled the following:

"I will be just what I am. They have watched me. I am in the right and they are in the wrong. I would like to get the other one. W. A. S."

This would indicate that he had premeditated the affair, and that he had also intended to add another victim, "the other one" evidently meaning the venerable head of the firm, and a millionaire, John M. Naylor. This gentleman was on his way to the store at the time, and would probably have been in reach of the murderous bullets, if he had not been detained on the street by a friend.

Within an almost incredibly short space of time the news had spread over the city like wildfire, and nothing else was thought of for the remainder of the day.

The injured men were at once taken to their respective residences and Snyder's body was carried to his home.

T. W. Downey is the most seriously injured as he received three wounds, one in the wrist, one in the chest and one in the face. His recovery is doubtful and if his death should ensue the shock will likely prove fatal to his wife who is very low with consumption.

Mr. Crobaugh's wound is in the back and the ball has not been found. But little blood has issued from the wound and it is feared that he is bleeding internally. The physicians, however, express hopes for his recovery.

Mr. Naylor's injuries are the least dangerous. The ball entered his side from the back and passed out within a few inches from the place it entered. It is not thought that any vital organs have been touched and he will recover.

All of the parties were apparently somewhat improved this morning.

The causes which ended in this awful tragedy were, as stated yesterday, business jealousy and disappointment in several matters. Snyder had also been suffering with the grip and he brooded over these matters until in a morbid state of mind, probably insanity, he resolved upon murder.

From the statements made to a Bee, by his family, he had intended to go into an independent hardware business with Mr. Crobaugh. But when the latter and Mr. Ed. T. Naylor were taken into the firm about a week ago, this put an end to those plans and he thought that he should have also been taken into the partnership, although Mr. Naylor states that he had never made any statements to Snyder that would indicate that he intended to take him in. He did, however, assure Mr. Snyder that he wanted him to remain in his employ and to this Snyder assented and seemed satisfied.

Yet at home he talked of his disappointment and worried over it very much, so that for the past week he had been morose and had but little appetite.

The marriage of his aged aunt, Mrs. Weeks, whose property, which was considerable, he expected to inherit, also worried him, and though he said but little on this subject at home, they knew he was displeased, and he did not hesitate to talk on the matter at the store.

Another matter which probably affected him more than any of these was that he thought his employers suspected him of dishonesty and were watching him, as he mentions in the note written the instant before he shot himself.

Yet the Naylors say that no stain was attached to the character of Mr. Snyder: he was their most trusted clerk, had possession of the keys to the store, and their actions toward him during his long service showed that they trusted him implicitly.

Taking all the circumstances, the affair is one of the most peculiar ever chronicled, and the most plausible conclusion and the one generally accepted is, that the man had allowed his suposed wrongs to prey upon his mind until it became unbalanced, and yesterday's tragedy was the result. But there are many rumors afloat of all kinds, and there may be more behind it all that will never be told.

The death of her son and his acts just previous has proved a terribly shock to his aged mother, Mrs. Snyder. She was already seriously ill, and her condition today is critical. Snyder's funeral will occur to-morrow afternoon. The G. A. R. is the only society to which the dead man belonged.

No ill feeling whatever has been engendered between the Naylor and Snyder families, and last evening Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Naylor visited the afflicted home of Mr. Snyder and did all in my power to alleviate the grief of the saddened household.

Mr. Walter Snyder was well connected, and has many relatives in high standing in Tiffin and elsewhere. At his home were his mother and a maiden sister. He has two brothers, Calvin, living at Tiffin, and John, whose home is at Bettsville. Mr. Otto Snyder, grand master of the exchequer of the Ohio Knights of Pythias, is a cousin of the dead man.

Mrs. Zimmerman, formerly Mrs. Weeks, the aunt whose marriage last week so disappointed Mr. Snyder, spent a large part of her time at his home and he managed her property. She had made arrangements to start for her plantation at Surrounded Hills yesterday, but, of course, was detained by the sad events of the day.

The excitement was augmented somewhat last evening by a report that the revolver with which the shooting had been done was missing, but Marshal Frick stated to a Bee that the weapon was safely locked up in Mr. Naylor's hardware store.

How the Tariff Affects the Country.

Sena, Sargent & Co., Give Their Reasons for Not Exhibiting at the World's Fair.

New Haven, Conn., March 16.—Sena, Sargent & Co., one of the largest manufacturing firms in this city, and one of the largest concerns in hardware manufacture in the country, will not exhibit at the world's fair. Mayor Sargent, the president of the company, gives as a reason the tariff.

"We pay," he says, "$6 or $7 more a ton for pig iron than do our English competitors; 50 per cent. more for wrought iron, more for steel, double the price for lead, almost double the price for spelter, and more for copper. This high and extra cost of raw materials would not pay us to make an exhibit in an international exposition."

COMBINE IN CARPETS.

A Big Consolidation in Philadelphia.

The Largest Manufacturers In the Country Are Ready to Pool Their Vast Interests.

Philadelphia, March 16.—Negotiations are pending for the consolidation of two of the largest carpet manufactories of the city. The capitalization will be over $1,000,000, the annual output nearly $3,000,000 in value, and 1,000 hands given employment.

Ivins, Dietz & Magee and Hogg & Metzger, the firms whose amalgamation is in prospect, with a single exception, are the Philadelphia leaders in the manufacture of body brussels carpets and large producers of Wiltons and ingrains.

The intention is to incorporate the new concern, and its name will probably be The Ivins, Dietz & Metzger company. One million dollars worth of stock at the par value of $100 per share will be issued first and increased as the business may demand.

It is the idea to limit the production, unless the demand should become too pressing, to $2,500,000.

Mr. Metzger last night confirmed the details above set forth and said the entire matter was still subject to change, but it is believed that it will go through.

DUEL FOR BLOOD.

A Real Fight Has Taken Place

In France On Account of Politics.

Mr. Isaacs, the Sub-Prefect of Fourmees,

Wounded by the Marquis de Mores.

It Was a Game Contest from the Start with the State Officer at a Disadvantage—Great Excitement.

Paris, March 16.—Society is greatly stirred up over the serious wounding of M. Isaac, the sub-prefect of Fourmies, by the Marquis de Mores, in a duel fought yesterday. Ever since the Fourmies riots when the military, at the instigation, it is claimed, of M. Isaac, fired among the working people, killing and wounding women and children as well as men, M. Isaac has been the object of frequent and bitter attacks by the socialists. He was upheld by M. Constans, and this was one prominent cause of that minister's unpopularity and indirectly of the disruption of the cabinet and the rejection of M. Constans by the new premier, M. Loubet.

M. Edwuard Drumont, in a recent book, alluded to M. Isaac in a severe manner and was promptly challenged by the sub-prefect, who is a person of considerable courage. They fought with pistols and both were wounded, M. Drumont getting the worst of the encounter. The Marquis de Mores, who is said to have had an interesting career in the United States, had also been reflecting upon M. Isaac. The marquis has lately trained with the socialists, and he saw no better way of gaining popularity with them than by drawing a challenge from the man who was charged with having their comrades shot down at Fourmies.

This was not difficult. The marquis wrote a letter arraigning M. Isaac for the Fourmies affair. The letter was meant to draw a challenge, and it came. M. Isaac sent a friend to see the marquis. The latter received the messenger with the air of a Danton.

"Monsieur Le Marquis," began the messenger.

"Do not call me marquis," exclaimed the new-fledged Jacobin, contemptuously. "I am a citizen, one of the people," and he waved his hand toward a liberty cap that was conspicuous in the otherwise luxuriously furnished apartment.

The messenger begged pardon, and followed the apology by delivering the challenge from M. Isaac.

"Tell M. Isaac," replied the marquis, coolly, "that one of the people is ready to meet the man who slaughtered his brethren, that he chooses swords for the weapons, and the duel will be fought to the death."

The information that Mores had chosen swords for the weapons was not agreeable to Isaacs, who would have preferred pistols, the same weapons with which he had fought Drumont. Mores was known to be an expert swordsman, and has boasted of his ability to kill any fencer who should dare to face him. Isaac, however, did not hesitate. He accepted the terms and authorized his seconds to arrange the preliminaries.

The men met yesterday morning. Isaac, night practicing with a well-known fencing master. It is usual for duelists to give some token of recognition before the deadly encounter, but the marquis would not even notice his antagonist, and seemed to wait with impatience for the word.

From the first the marquis pressed the fighting. Isaac held his own bravely, but was no match for theskil and impetuosity of his antagonist. The marquis evidently ment to kill, and Isaac knew it.

Both men kept their presence of mind, or the fight would have ended at once; for the marquis was ready to take advantage of the slightest slip on the part of Isaac, who showed a skill that encouraged his friends, and seemed to astonish De Mores.

It was by a skillful feint that De Mores succeeded in disabling his man. He made a thrust as if at the left breast, and as Isaac made a motion to parry that blow, De Mores, with almost inconceivable swiftness, struck fiercely and forcibly to the right, plunging his weapon into the breast of Isaac.

The latter staggered, the blood pouring from the wound. He held on to his sword, and made a motion as if to attack De Mores again. The latter stood calm and turning to his second, asked for a cigar. This was handed to him and lighting it he quietly smoked while the condition of Isaac was being examined.

The attending surgeons pronounced the wound dangerous, and possibly fatal, if not speedily attended to. They stopped the blood and advised Isaac to be conveyed at once to some place for treatment.

Isaac staggered to his feet and insisted on continuing the fight.

"It was to be a duel to the death, and it must go on."

The seconds held a consultation and then stepped up to the combatants. It would be murder, the ysaid, for them to permit the duel to be continued. M. Isaac was dangerously wounded, and not in a condition to offer such resistance as would justify his antagonist in proceeding.

De Mores seemed disappointed. He would have liked, it was evident, to have had the privilege of killing Isaac, but he knew there was a limit beyond which French law pronounced killing in a duel to be murder. He therefore reluctantly consented to stay his hand. As for M. Isaac, he was physically unable to resist the decision of the seconds, and he was removed from the field.

The socialists are making a hero of De Mores.

M. Isaac is said to be in a critical condition.

FIRE IN A BARREL FACTORY.

Philadelphia, March 16.—At 4 o'clock this morning fire started in the barrel factory of W. G. Pennypacker, at Reed street wharf, and the entire structure was burned to the ground.

Pennypacker leases the building from Claus Spreckles, the sugar refiner.

Pennypacker's loss is $30,000, and Spreckles' loss on the building is $130,000.

HAD DYNAMITE.

Vienna, March 16.—The Russian police have arrested a French traveler at Szczakowa, near the frontier of Austrian Poland. The man had dynamite in his possession, supposed to have been recently stolen near Paris.

ARCHBISHOP SMITH DEAD.

London, March 16.—The Most Rev. Smith, Catholic archbishop of St. Andrews and Edinburger, is dead. He was 61 years of age, and was appointed in 1885.

GOOD DEMOCRATS

Nominated by the People of Bellevue, Ohio.

Bellevue, O., March 16.—(Special)—The democratic city convention was held in this city last evening and the following nominations made:

Mayor—Hon. Peter Brady.
Clerk—Louis Oehm.
Marshal—S. J. Higgins.
Treasurer—A. Ruffing.
Sealer of weights and measures—Nicholas Engler.
Water works trustee—W. H. Erdrich.
Cemetery director—John S. Wise.
Members of board of education—John Greenslade, H. A. Schlicht.
Councilmen—First ward, Phil. Cupp, long term; Jacob Biebricher, short term. Third ward, Pat McGushion, long term; John Zehner, short term. Fourth ward, Fred Wolfrom.
Assessors—First ward, Wm. Mann; Second ward, B. F. Benn; Third ward, Mich. Buhrens; Fourth ward, John Earle.

The convention was a quiet affair, all nominations being made either by acclamation or were decided on first ballot.

ROMANCE UNDER DIFFICULTIES.

St. Mary's, O., March 16.—(Special)—A novel wedding occurred here last night. There being no German minister at Celina, Anthony Bohrer and Caroline Austeman, prominent parties, drove over the rough roads to this city last night, a distance of nine miles, were married by Rev. Mr. Batcheler, and returned immediately after the ceremony.

Bohrer is a son of Prof. Bohrer, of the state blind asylum.

COAL TAKES A TUMBLE.

Again Within Reach of the Consumers.

Exciting Scenes on the Coal Exchange in London—Foreign Producers Go Home.

London, March 16.—There was an exciting scene in the coal exchange to-day. It became apparent that the pinnacle had been reached in pushing the price of coal and everybody was awaiting to see who would strike the keynote for the downgrade.

At length one of the leading firms offered coal at four shillings under the ruling price. It was as if a fire-brand had been cast into the crowd. There was a wild rush to follow the leader and coal took a rapid fall.

The representatives of the Belgian mine owners, who have flocked in dozens to the city to take advantage of the sitfiation, are going back to Belgium disgusted. They find that the miners stoppage has not made London a gold mine for the continental producers. It is now considered certain that the adjourned miners' conference, to be held in London this afternoon will decide in favor of a resumption of work on Monday next.

AFTER A LONG DISCUSSION

Napoleon Decides to Build a Water Plant.

It Will be Combined with That of Electric Lighting and be Voted on at a Special Election.

Napoleon, March 16.—(Special)—The Napoleon city council has had the water works and electric light subject under consideration for some time.

It consulted with companies, studied the subject and the town's wants, and last evening came to the conclusion that a plant combining water works and electric light could be put in at a cost not to exceed $60,000.

All of the council is in favor of the project, and also that the town own and operate the plant. To do this the question of bonding the town must be submitted to the people at a general election.

It will be readily seen that the spring election is too near, hence the council carried a motion to have a special act passed by the general assembly empowering the town to hold a special election for this purpose.

Mayor Meekison was instructed to draw the bill and forward it to Representative Myers to-day.

At the same election the question of making an additional levy for the furtherance of the project will be submitted.

That Napoleon will, within a year, have a water works plant is believed by many—either that soon, or the subject will be buried so far out of sight as to make its resurrection an impossibility.

THIS MAN IS AFRAID

That the Agents of Toledo Railroads

Will Take Advantage of a Resolution Passed by the Joint Committee Regarding Long and Short Cars.

"The freight officials of Toledo railroads," said a prominent railroader this morning, "have received notice of a new wrinkle that is in my judgment going to make trouble as it leaves a loop hole for freight agents to take business in a manner that will be a discrimination against other roads.

"It seems the joint committee has decided that when a car less than 30 feet in length is ordered for a shipment of machinery or other freight and the originating road, through inability to receive a short car, is compelled to furnish a car thirty feet in length or over, it shall be permitted to bill the property at the minimum weight provided for a short car.

"A certificate signed by the agent of the originated company must be made on the manifest to destination, showing that a short car was ordered and a long car furnished because of the inability of the railroad company to furnish a short car and that the property could have been located in a short car.

"This is as broad as it is long. I'll bet a nickel that agents are not so almighty honest that they won't take advantage of the above. You know railroads have to watch each other. If we were all honest we would not need to have an inspection bureau and like arrangements. I think it was very foolish for the joint committee to pass any such resolution."

ATTORNEY-GENERAL MILLER

Relates an Item of Local Significance in an Interview.

George Alfred Townsend sends out an interview with Attorney-General Miller, and in the course of it is the following local reference:

"How came you to be in Indiana, Mr. Miller?"

"I came from Oneida county, New York, at Hamilton college, and when I graduated there, at the commencement of the civil war, I went to teach school at Maumee, close by Toledo. I suppose you have heard the song about Maumee, and having heard it myself, it seemed strange that I should go to that very place. I studied law with the late Chief Justice Waite in Toledo, and then went on to Indiana, to Peru and Fort Wayne, and the practice of my firm had its connections at Indianapolis with Gen. Harrison's firm. We sent them law business, and I sometimes went on there, and Gen. Harrison invited me to come into his firm.

RUSSIAN WITH A HEART.

The Governor of Warsaw Has Resigned

Rather Than Obey the Cruel Commands.

The Words of General Gourko Were: "Let the Civil Pack Die, Let Them Perish Miserably; What Care We."

Berlin, March 16.—The Vossische Zeitung has a dispatch from Warsaw telling that Gen. Kozmin, the governor of Warsaw, has resigned, because he differed with Gen. Gourko, the Russian commander-in-chief, in relation to the repressive measures which Gourko desired to take for keeping down the Polish agitation, and especially as to the precautions to be taken for the safety and support of the inhabitants of Warsaw, in the event of war.

Gen. Gourko advocated that, if war should break out, all the civilians should be expelled from the city, leaving the provisions to be devoted to the support of the military. "Let the civil pack die," he exclaimed. "Let them perish miserably. What care we?"

To this Kozmin objected, with the remark that before starving, the people might endanger the army. Gourko answered sharply: "I will level fifty cannon at Warsaw and then they will die quietly."

This was too much for General Kozmin, who is said to be a man of humane instincts and he at once sent his resignation to St. Petersburg. The fact that there was even occasion for such a discussion has strengthened the belief that Russia will shortly make a move in the direction of the Balkans, thus provoking a war with Austria, in which event alone would there be any cause for special military preparations for the defense of Warsaw.

WHERE YOU MAY VOTE,

And Who Will Receive Votes at the Primaries

Called by the Democratic City Central Committee for Saturday, from 4 to 8 P. M.—Mr. Opitz Declines

Chairman M. C. Sullivan, of the democratic city committee, has been busily engaged in making the necessary arrangements for the holding of the primaries on Saturday, and is to-day enabled to give the location in each ward where the votes may be deposited and also the supervisors.

The polls will open at 4 o clock and close at 8 p. m. As stated in the Bee, any democrat is privileged to run for any of the offices named in the call, and may write tickets or have them printed. While this is possible, it is better that preliminary meetings be held and general consultation indulged in as to the best men to select. However, this is a matter which belongs exclusively to the democrats of the different wards, and they will undoubtedly act with the wisdom which the importance of the times demands.

The primaries will be held at the points and be supervised as follows:

First ward—Booth corner Bush and Erie streets; Geo. F. Bell and E. D. Scrafford, supervisors.

Second ward—Booth corner Cherry and Superior streets; John Carr, James Lannen and H. Van Karsen, supervisors.

Third ward—Booth on Memorial building grounds; Sylvester Lamb and Declan Allen, supervisors.

Fourth ward—Booth Nebraska avenue, between Erie and Hunt streets; Dan McGettigan and Thomas Donnelly, supervisors.

Fifth ward—Booth corner of Dix and Jarvis streets; John M. Gorman and Patrick Fitzpatrick, supervisors.

Sixth ward—Booth corner Bridge and Front streets; Wash Clay and M. E. Donohue, supervisors.

Seventh ward—Young's drug store, corner Cherry and Bancroft streets; August Ehnes and M. H. Quinlan, supervisors.

Eighth ward—Booth corner Dorr and Division streets; Thomas Gorman and P. Henahan, supervisors.

Ninth ward—Booth on Broadway, between South street and Walbridge avenue; Botefuhr, supervisors.

Mr. R. Opitz, who has faithfully served the people of the Eight ward in the board of education for a number of years, will retire at the close of his present term. This is to be regretted, since Mr. Opitz' services can ill be spared, but, as may be noticed from the following card, the steps on his part is imperatively necessary:

To the democratic voters of the Eighth ward: In order to correct any impression that may exist to the contrary, I take this method of stating that I am not a candidate for re-election to the board of education at the coming election and trust my friends will consider this as final, as owing to my business engagements it will be absolutely impossible to accept a nomination, under any circumstances.

Thanking you for your kind and generous support during my official career, I remain,

Very respectfully,
R. OPITZ.

Democratic meetings will be held in the Third and Seventh wards to-night. Third warders meet at the court house, and the Seventh at Louis Young's drug store on Cherry street, corner Bancroft, named and be supervised as follows:

A meeting of Second ward democrats was held last night, and several names were canvassed for the ward ticket to be voted for at the primaries Saturday. A strong combination is talked of as follows: Councilman, Theodore Schreitt; member board of education, Sam Kohn; assessor, Mr. Conlisk. There is a ticket of winners.

The conventions of both political parties will be held next Monday—the Democrats at Turner hall and the republicans at Druid.

SEMINARY BURNED.

Destructive Fire at Woodville This Morning.

The Lutheran Seminary Totally Destroyed—A Defective Flue the Cause.

Woodville, O., March 16.—(Special)—The Lutheran seminary, located at this place, was totally destroyed by fire early this morning. The building was a handsome three-story brick structure. A defective flue caused the blaze and the flame burned itself out, completely gutting the building and leaving only the bare and blackened walls standing.

There were about 50 students in the seminary and all escaped without injury. A portion of their effects were saved, but the rapidity with which the flames spread precluded the rescue of much of the property and the citizens were kept busy in the efforts to prevent the spread of the fire.

The loss is about $12,000, insured for $5,000. The seminary was under the charge of the Lutheran church and its destruction is a great blow to the church and to the village of Woodville.

HUNTING ANARCHISTS.

Paris Still in a State of Excitement.

House to House Search Being Made.

Any Suspicious Person or Any Person With Dynamite in His Possession Will be Arrested

Paris, March 16.—Great excitement continues to prevail in regard to the anarchists, and the government has been stimulated by the expressions of all parties in the chamber of deputies to harsh and radical action.

Premier Loubet conferred to-day with the prefect of police, and it was resolved to search the houses of suspected anarchists, and to arrest every person found in possession of arms, explosives or documents inciting to dynamite and sedition.

This search has, in fact, been going on for some days, even before the Lobeau explosion, but it has been conducted somewhat under cover, the authorities not wishing to provoke animadversion.

Since the explosion the search has been more actively pursued, and will now be made general. The anarchists are believed to have their headquarters in a house at Passy. This residence has been visited by the police on several occasions, but without obtaining any evidence in the way of arms, explosives or documents.

The anarchists seem to have had notice of the times when the police would make their raids and the authorities are not without suspicion that there are anarchist sympathizers in the police force and government offices. The antecedents of some of the police are being carefully inquired into and their associations watched.

Owing to the dread of other dynamite outrages the guards at various public offices and at the building stations in and around Paris have been much strengthened. At the Bank of France a large special guard has been placed and any suspicious person seen in the vicinity is made to give an account of himself.

There seems to be no doubt that the bill punishing dynamiters with death will pass the senate and chamber of deputies and that it will be vigorously enforced.

DEFIANCE DOINGS.

Court Cases—New Factory—Political Mention.

Defiance, O., March 16.—The Canton Stove company, which employs about seventy men, has decided to locate in Defiance, and is expected to begin operations early in the spring. The company received what is equivalent to a donation of about $25,000, and will occupy the large foundry building built a year ago in East Defiance, which covers about an acre of ground.

Judge Baker issued a warrant for the arrest of Charles Brown for the murder of Joseph E. Rich, the idiotic inmate of the county infirmary.

The warrant was issued on the deposition of John F. Shultz, one of the infirmary directors.

Brown, who is also an inmate of the infirmary, will be examined as to his sanity. If found insane, as is most likely, he will be sent to the asylum at once.

The democrats have nominated an exceptionally strong ticket.

In the First ward H. D. Bokof for the council and Werner Wrede for assessor.

Second ward—Oscar Kniss, councilman; Peter Shannon, sr., assessor.

Third ward—John M. Eberle, councilman; Frank Hatfield, assessor.

Fourth ward—Judge Martin Perkey, councilman; Helmuth Yeager, assessor.

George Haselwarth was nominated for township trustee and Daniel A. Grant, township clerk. In some of the wards there was a spirited contest over the selection of delegates to the city convention which meets next Monday. But the delegates selected would seem to indicate the selection of Martin B. Gorman or J. H. Hockman for mayor.

It's a sign, that you need help, when pimples, blotches, and eruptions begin to appear. Your blood needs looking after. You'll have graver matters than pimples to deal with, if you neglect it. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery prevents and cures all diseases and disorders caused by impure blood. It invigorates the liver, purifies the blood, and promotes all the bodily functions. For all forms of scrofulous, skin and scalp disease, and even Consumption (which is really lung-scrofula) in all its earlier stages, it is a certain remedy. It's the only one that's guaranteed, in every case, to benefit or cure, or the money is refunded. It's a matter of confidence in one's medicine.

It's the cheapest blood-purifier sold, through druggists, because you only pay for the good you get.

Can you ask more?

The "Discovery" acts equally well all the year round.

NATIONAL UNION COMPANY.

The Farmers Have Swallowed Bait and Hook.

Executive Committee Recommends That Alliance Members Trade With the New Company.

Chicago, March 16.—An Inter-Ocean special from St. Paul says: If any doubt existed as to where the Farmers' alliance stands with reference to the National Union company it was dispelled last night by the executive committee of the Minnesota alliance, which adopted the following in secret session:

"Whereas, This committee has listened to the presentation of the plans of the National Union company; and

"Whereas, The said company does not ask the alliance or any of its members to invest a dollar of capital or assume any financial responsibility, and pledges the members of the alliance to sell them equally good goods at the same prices charged by other retail merchants, and give them a considerable rebate on all purchases besides; and

"Whereas, The alliance will always have it in its power to crush the said company by withdrawing its support should it fail to keep its promises, or should it develop any injurious features; therefore

"Resolved, That we ask the members of the alliance to give the matter a full and fair hearing, and if they are satisfied to support the Union company one year at least, as an experiment, and see how it works."

TRIED TO REFORM HIM.

White Caps Who May Get Into Trouble.

St. Mary's, O., March 16.—(Special)—A once prominent lawyer of New Bremen, this county, whose downfall is addicted to strong drink, was white-capped last evening.

Four or five masked men took him out of his boarding house and as the whole matter was intended for a joke, by which it was thought he would be cured, a rope was tied around his neck, and he was led towoards the canal with the intention of giving him a ducking. But his earnest pleading that he would reform and never touch another drop of liquor, influenced the crowd and he was released.

As soon as he gained his freedom, he swore out vengeance against the band of masked men and threatened to kill every one of them. The joke is beginning to look serious, Miller claiming he will prosecute the participants, who are foremost citizens of the place.

ALL IS PEACE ONCE MORE.

Italy to Send a Minister to This Country.

Not Definitely Known Whether or Not Baron Fava Will Be Returned.

New York, March 16.—A Washington dispatch to the Herald says a minister from the kingdom of Italy will present his credentials to President Harrison within a short time if the information received at the state department is correct.

A hint of this was given at the cabinet meeting yesterday and general satisfaction was expressed that our diplomatic relations with the Italian government are to be resumed.

It is not positively known whether Baron Fava will return or another minister be named in his place.

The Italian government has decided to send a minister here without regard to the action taken by congress to recompense the families of the Italians killed at New Orleans.

It is probable, however, that a report will be made from the committee on foreign affairs of the senate in favor of adding to the diplomatic appropriation bill a small appropriation for the families of the victims of the New Orleans, killing, thereby restoring fully the entente cordiale between Italy and this country.

OAK HARBOR.

General News From a Busy Little City.

Oak Harbor, March 16.—(Special)—The timber for the new gas well derrick is on the ground and work will be begun soon.

The Wheeling road has removed the trestle and is filling in at an estimated cost of $10,000.

The mammoth grain elevator built by Thierweckter & Co. is now ready for use. The contractor was A. Foster, of Fremont. It has a capacity of 30,000 bushels, contains a monstrous corn sheller and wheat separator and is furnished power by two eight horse power electric engines. It cost $9,000, and for convenience, beauty and economy of labor and power is a marvel. It handles and cleans 300 bushels of grain in nine minutes and loads a car of 300 bushels in six minutes.

Dr. W. Warren Perry Marries the Girl He Wronged.

Ottawa, Ill., March 16.—The finale of the sensational arrest of Dr. W. Warren Perry within five minutes of the altar rail at Elizabeth Monday night was enacted here in Probate Judge Hall's private office yesterday afternoon when the doctor was married to Miss Minnie Borga, the pretty girl who caused his arrest.

It was a case of bride or jail, and he chose the bride.

FOSTORIA NOTES.

New Gas Well Attached—Improvements—Pickpockets on Hand.

Fostoria, O., March 16.—(Special)—The Massie glass factory will soon add two more shops to its already large working force.

The Emerine well, good for about 2,000,000 feet daily was attached to the Fostoria line yesterday. This well is situated near Bloomdale.

The trial of Will Franklin and W. S. Cozad of this city, under indictment for pocket picking will come up in the common pleas court at Tiffin to-day.

FAILED TO FIND HIM.

Upper Sandusky, O., March 16.—The officers who were out in Pitt township yesterday searching the country for Mick Hickman, the brute who so badly assaulted his wife and father-in-law Sunday afternoon, returned last night without their man. Whether he is in hiding or has fled the country is unknown, but a diligent search failed to find him.

WHERE HAS WM. GONE?

An Interesting Question in Chicago Just Now.

Mr. Allerton Refuses to Talk on the Meat Combine.

The Secretary of the Clearing House No Longer Frequents the Places That Once Knew None But Him.

Chicago, March 16.—The News this morning says: The mysterious Wm. M. White, who has been running the clearing house of the big dressed meat combine, turns out to be S. W. Allerton's private secretary.

The fact is, that although Mr. Allerton is not now a member of the combine he managed to break into several years ago and compelled the other members to buy him out. They did so. He knew too much.

Although Mr. Allerton got out of the cattle business his private secretary, who has acted in that capacity for 20 years, has managed affairs for the trust ever since.

When Allerton was asked yesterday about the connection of his private secretary with the Montauk block clearing house, he professed ignorance of the workings of the meat combine.

"Why, William never tells me anything about his business," said Mr. Allerton. "If he should I would discharge him, for I would consider that he was unworthy of my confidence. He has not told me anything about his connection with Mr. Armour and the others, so I cannot give you any information about what you are pleased to term the clearing house in the Montauk block."

When Mr. Allerton was asked if it was not a fact that the "Big Three" and two other leading oleomargarine houses in Chicago were using the Montauk block office as a clearing house in a manner similar to that employed by the meat combine he disclaimed all knowledge of it.

Mr. White, the secretary of the clearing house, was not at his office yesterday. In fact for several days William, as Mr. Allerton affectionately calls him, has been a stranger to the haunts that formerly knew him.

WENT ON THE ROCKS.

Another Disaster at the Isle of Wight.

The Brigantine Goes to Pieces and Ten of Her Crew Drown Before Assistance Arrives.

London, March 16.—A marine disaster is reported from the Isle of Wight.

The Norwegian brigantine Gudrun, commanded by Capt. Tonnesen, has been wrecked at Totlands, near the western extremity of Wight, and not far from the famous Needle Rocks.

The Gudrun hails from Norway, and has been sailing about to any part of the world where a profitable cargo was offered.

The Gudrun sailed from Bahia, South America, on January 8, for Pensacola, Fla., arriving there February 19, and then started for Great Britain.

The brigantine is said to have run on the rocks while making for Southampton, by way of the Solent. Before assistance could arrive ten of the crew perished. They are said to be mostly Scandinavians.

It is said the Gudrun has no real business at Pensacola, but called there in order to get clearing papers from a port other than Brazilian, as there is a strict quarantine in Great Britain against vessels from several ports in Brazil.

ONE-CANDLE POWER

About the Size of the Light That Was Shed

On the Congregationalist Committee by Toledoans at Yesterday's Discussion of the Labor Question.

Yesterday afternoon and evening Sydney Strong, Washington Gladden and Roeliff Brinkerhoff were in Toledo, as a comittee appointed by the Ohio Association of Congregational churches to investigate the social and industrial situation of the day. It was their idea to meet anyone at the First Congregational church who could throw light on the question. There was a fair attendance at both sessions. In the afternoon Dr. McGrath, Rev. H. M. Bacon, A. Macomber, and F. J. Hoag joined in the discussion. A composit opinion of their opinions would go to show that the relations between employer and employe were changing for the better and the tendency of the present time was to establish a more harmonious relation between the capitalists and the laboring classes. In the evening, however, Messrs. Booth and Fellows, of the Central Labor Union, and Chas. Martin, of the Knights of Labor, were present, and they threw cold water on the roseate views of the afternoon speakers. Mr. Martin said that the present relations between the two great powers were not all that they might be, and offered in evidence the oft-occurring strike, boycott, lockout and the general discontent that prevailed. Messrs. Booth and Fellows talked in the same strain.

It is highly probable the investigating committe learned something by coming to Toledo and then again it is probable that they depaarted more mixed than ever. Perhaps, too, those who could throw the most light on the subject were not present. Those to whom the question is not a theoretical one but a most unpleasant fact, are not just at present given to airing their opinions.

Electricity says that a recent improvement of arc-light pencils consists of a wire cloth containing no carbon, but coated with a chornate of any kind. These chromates are non-conducting, but the metal cloth starts the arc, and the intense heat reduces the chromate to a chromate of the metal used. These pencils burn at the rate of one-eighth of an inch an hour when the current is properly controlled.

afresh. Dr. Pease amputated an inch of the bone, and it healed. Four years later it once more opened, and for eight years how I suffered! I do not believe it possible for a human being to suffer worse agony. During this time I had to go on crutches, being unable to wear a wooden leg. Whenever possible I relieved my sufferings by taking opiate, but when I was obliged to go without it, I suffered fearfully and thought I should go crazy. I tried every thing I could get with my limited means. Physicians said I would never be any better. Finally my and it broke out all over my face and on some parts of my body so that my face is all covered with scars now. One day I read of what Hood's Sarsaparilla would do. The first dollar I got I sent and bought a bottle and began taking it. A week or two later, my wife in dressing my leg, said it seemed to be improving, and after taking a few months, thank God (and I say it reverently), the sores all over my body had healed, and now, four years later, have never shown any sign of reappearing." George M. Hammond, 219 Magnolia Street, Syracuse, N. Y.

Between the parts of a compound lens it often happens that a peculiar fungi analagous to mildew will form, and to remove this a French photographic journal suggests the following: Remove the lens and place it in water whose temperature is high enough to liquefy the Canada balsam which forms the cementing substance. Separate the two glasses and wash the surface by means of a piece of chamois soaked in ether or turpentine, and afterward dry the surface with chamois. Place one or two drops of balsam in the center of the concave lens, and fit it to the convex lens. With a light pressure and a circular movement the balsam is made to spread itself evenly over the surface in a fine layer, all excess oozing out at the edges. It is now only necessary to let the lens dry, when it will be found to be in good working condition.

The Morganthaler Tax Bill—Supreme Court Bill Defeated—World's Fair Resolution—General Columbus News.

Columbus, March 16.—(Special)—There was music in the house of representatives yesterday afternoon between the representatives from Cuyahoga county, when Clark's bill to abolish the Morganthaler system of sneaking after omitted taxes came up.

The bill that was under consideration authorized the county commissioners to make an appointment in each county, instead of doing as is provided for in the Morganthaler law. The author of the bill, after having his bill engrossed at the clerk's desk, and after having been recommended for indefinite postponement by the judiciary committee, secured the floor yesterday afternoon, and in one of the ablest speeches ever delivered on the subject of taxation, explained the provisions of his measure.

In fact he said that the present law was un-American, and gave great opportunity for perjury, bribery, etc., among the different county officials, as the tax inquisitor could work in league with the county auditor and protect his friends while others would be squeezed.

Mr. Doty opposed the measure and presented certain statistics prepared by the tax inquisitor of Cuyahoga county.

Mr. Griffin spoke in favor of the bill and said they had honest man in Toledo and Lucas county and did not need a law of the Morganthaler kind to make citizens of his locality honest.

He deprecated the result that would aris from the driving of capital out of the state. During his remarks the house paid close attention. His colleague, Flickinger, although present, did not vote, while Heller voted no. The bill was defeated; yeas 11, nays 67.

Dedistricting.

Chairman Daugherty called the republican caucus to order last night, and asked for the report of the special committee appointed to redistrict the state. Mr. McGrew said that the committee had agreed upon all of the 21 districts, an dhad appointed Mr. Taylor, of Champaign, and Mr. Griffin, to formulate the report to the caucus. Mr. Griffin took from his pocket a handsomely colored map, which by the way he had carried about with him for a week or more, and proceeded to deal out the districts as proposed by the committee.

Mr. Taylor ,of Champaign, called the gentleman's attention to the fact that the committee had never formulated a written report, and intimated that there was enough objection among the members of the committee to prevent any such report being signed. This seemed to be the first breeze of the coming storm. The rotund gentleman from Maumee answered back by saying that the committee had instructed himself and Mr. Taylor unanimously to draw u the report.

"Only two voted for it," said Mr. Taylor.

"But there were none against it," was the response.

A motion was then made by Mr. Griffin that the caucus when it adjourned should adjourn till Thursday night.

Mr. Holcomb, one of the members of the committee, insisted that the meeting was called for the purpose of considering the report of the committee, and that something had better be done.

Mr. Taylor, of Guernsey county, arose, and with his usual solemnity asked, "What are we here for?"

ICE ON HIS WHISKERS.

Navigation is Open at Chicago.

The Steamer City of Marquette Braves the Stormy Waters and Secures First Honors.

Chicago, March 16.—Lake navigation is open. The steamer City of Marquette arrived yesterday, having made the first trip across the lake this season, and there was nothing pleasant about the voyage, either.

There was ice on Capt. Stine's whiskers as he piloted the staunch little vessel to the Graham & Morton Transportation company's dock, near the Rush street bridge.

There was more ice in the masts and rigging, in fact ice was the principal feature in the make-up of the crew, and the 30 passengers who braved the first trip of the season were a most weather-beaten set.

The City of Marquette left for St. Joseph at 11 o'clock again with passengers and freight.

Last of Star Course Entertainments—The Eloping Couple Captured—Matters Here and There.

HE LET FLY A BULLET,

That Took Effect in Another Man's Leg.

Last evening about 8 o'clock Adam Ray, who at one time was bartender at Volk's saloon on Summit street, entered the saloon of Joe Staub on St. Clair street, in exhilarating spirits and flourishing a loaded revolver around his head. Somehow or other the weapon went off, and the ball glancing on the floor hit the bartender, Albert Schuerer, on the right leg. It is not known what provoked Ray to shoot, but shoot he did, and as it is a very dangerous practice he was gathered in by the police. The case came up in court this morning, and was continued to March 17.

TOLEDO HOME SADDENED.

Death of Mrs. E. A. Townsend, nee Adelle Grandy.

Death comes again, and Toledo is deprived of a sweet young woman, beloved by a large number of friends, Mrs. Adelle G. Townsend. Mrs. Townsend was visiting Elkhart friends when she was taken suddenly ill. Hardly had the intelligence been received that she was ill before the dread message came that she was dead. The funeral will occur Thursday afternoon at 2 o'clock from the residence, 131 Broadway. Many a sympathetic thought will go out to the bereaved family in this their affliction.

AT THE Y. M. C. A.

Rev. S. D. Hutsinpiller Will Lecture Friday Night.

The lads composing the membership of the junior department of the Y. M. C. A. are to hear what will be a most profitable and interesting talk on Friday evening next at 8 o'clock in Association hall, corner Summit and Orange streets. The lecturer is Rev. S. D. Hutsinpiller, and he will talk about "Just the Boy Wanted for Citizenship."

The boys will be wise if they turn out in full force to hear him, as he knows what to say and how to say it, and always entertains his hearers. Each member is entitled to bring one friend and parents free, but membership ticket must be shown at door.

WHITE AND BLACK.

A Queer Love Affair in Which Toledo People Figure.

Wm. Wylie was the colored chef at the New Toledo restaurant on Summit street. Lena Schultz, a good-looking white girl, was employed at the same place in the kitchen. Somehow or other she became enamored with her dusky co-worker, and they took it into their heads to elope. They had no particular reason for eloping, but thinking, perhaps, that it would be the most romantic way of doing the thing, they eloped. They wandered toward Dayton. The police of that place noticed the strange couple, and thinking matters were not all right, cut the elopement short right there. Then Lena came to her senses and suddenly got over her love for William. The Toledo police were wired last evening, and some one will be sent to bring the foolish couple back. The man Wylie will probably be prosecuted.

SHE CLUBBED MARY

Did Catharine Slamaziska—A Child Causes the Trouble.

Somehow or other Mary Moholka's child got down to Catharine Slamaziska's house. Whether or not it was a case similar to the other King Solomon decided some time ago is not stated. At any rate the child was there and Mary wanted it. Consequently she went after it and Catharine hit her on the head with a club. Catharine was arrested and this morning she was given $10 and costs in the police court. The Slamaziska woman, in spite of her name, is young and good looking and hardly appears like a person who would use a billet of wood on another of her sex. However, she did and has paid for her fun.

UNION VETERANS' UNION.

A Meeting Held at Pythian Castle Last Evening.

Last evening at Pythian Castle further steps were taken in organizing the new commandry of the Union Veterans' Union, to be known as the General John W. Fuller, No. 49. Another meeting will be held Saturday, March 26. The union will start with a large membership. Officers have been chosen as follows: Colonel, John W. Smith; lieutenant-colonel, A. R. Rogers; major, James Stanbury; surgeon, Albert Claypool; chaplain, H. M. Bacon; officer of the day, John Cavanaugh; officer of the guard, J. E. Hime; quartermaster, Wm. Corlett; adjutant, A. T. Davis.

OIL MEN INVOLVED.

Suit Brought on a Valuable Patent Said to be Used Without Permission.

A suit was filed in the United States court yesterday afternoon, the development of which will doubtless be watched with interest by oil men especially refiners.

It is an action brought by Daniel M. Kennedy against the Solar Refining company and the Standard Oil company to establish claim to a patent of an invention to desulphurize and purify petroleum oils.

The plaintiff alleges that he was granted a patent on the invention in October, 1887, and shows that he is the sole owner of the same.

He charges that the defendants unlawfully, and injuriously, with intent to derive profit from making and selling the invention, thereby depriving him of any royalty or revenue of the same, caused the invention to be made or used in infringement of his patent rights.

He prays for an injunction restraining any further use of the invention either practically or the sale of.

It is further prayed that the defendants may be compelled to account to the plaintiff all the profits derived from making, using, selling or from any benefit derived by use of the invention.

THE ANN ARBOR GLEE CLUB.

Appearance in This City at Wheeler's Next Tuesday.

An attractive program will be rendered by the Ann Arbor musical organization at Wheeler's next Tuesday night. Mr. Spaulding, who assists, sings in the Westminster Presbyterian church at Detroit. Altogether, there is a happy combination. The Washtenaw Times has the following on the entertainment given last week:

The annual concert of the Glee and Banjo clubs given in University hall last evening deserved a larger audience than that present. The program was excellent, and the monotony usually characteristic of an entertainment of its kind was wholly missing. A solo by Mr. E. B. Spaulding was one of the best numbers of the evening. A very clever little thing, "Kismet," written by Sam Park and Ted Smith, of '91, was given by Mr. Walter and the club. It was a dramatic tale of the unsuspecting freshman and the wily senior after the same fair maid. The pathetic "tra-la-la-la-loo" caused many tears to be shed.

The hunters' chorus from Robin Hood ally good. The "Chestnut Mill" drew forth the heartiest applause of the evening. One of the best rendered of the numbers was "Reveries." The Banjo club is generally considered to be better than usual this year. El Pajar's waltzes and the U. of M. march were well played.

POLISH DEMOCRATS.

The Work They Have on Hand—Much Interest Manifested.

The best proof that the democrats are hustling in the Seventh and First wards and preparing themselves for the coming local and presidential elections, is that at every meeting of the Polish democratic club new members are enrolled, and discussions on various political topics take place. At the meeting of the club Monday evening at Grudzinski's hall, on Lagrange street, several well-known speakers, among whom were Dr. Smakowski, Mr. Frank Dakowski and Mr. M. Brzeczka, publisher of the Polish Kurjer, acquainted the members of the principles of the democratic party and asked them to always stand by their party and help elect democratic candidates who will make faithful representatives and look after the interests of the citizens of Toledo.

The club at present has over a hundred voting members, and nearly fifty Poles who will get their first and second papers this year. The membership list is increasing every week, and by the time of the presidential election it is expected the club will have between two hundred and four hundred citizens.

The objects of the club are, first, to make citizens of all Poles who come to this country and cannot, themselves, get their citizens' papers on account of the ignorance of the English language; second, to get papers for all those who reside in the United States five years and over, and as yet are not citizens; third, to impress on the minds of the members the principles of both parties and teach them to always look at the candidate and not at the party in time of local, county and state elections, to vote for only honest and qualified candidates; fourth, at all times to cast their votes for Polish candidates, no matter on what ticket they are represented.

The next meeting of the club will be held Monday evening, March 21, at Grudzinski's hall, on Lagrange street.

THE ST. CECELIAS.

Have a Good Time at the Installation of Officers.

The St. Cecelia Catholic Benevolent association, in connection with its annual installation of officers at Friendship hall last evening had a delightful musicale and entertainment followed by a delicious repast. The members of the Young Men's Catholic Benevolent association, of which the St Cecelias is an auxiliary, received invitations and were present in large numbers.

The growth of the society has been wonderful. Prior to the installation of officers 35 young ladies were initiated, and the applications of almost as many more were received and referred to the proper committee.

The following officers were then installed:

President—Miss Della Mansuy.
First vice-president—Mrs Geo. Frey.
Second vice-president—Miss Della Hurst.
Treasurer—Mrs. E. Higgins.
Recording secretary—Miss Birdie Conlisk.
Financial secretary—Miss Nellie Moroney.
Guard—Miss Maggie Welch.

Mrs. E. Higgins, the retiring president, delivered an address in which she gave an interesting sketch of the rise and progress of the St. Cecilias. At the conclusion of her address Mrs. Higgins was tendered a vote of thanks and a beautiful basket of flowers.

Miss Josie Meaney was then presented with a handsome gold badge for having brought in during the past month the most applications for membership.

An excellent musical program followed. Misses Anna Shrink and Birdie Conlisk sang a duet in good style and very sweetly. Mrs. Emma Walker followed in a solo that was excellently rendered. A duet by Miss Emma Goatzy and Mrs. W. Epker, also well executed, was followed by a recitation by Miss Nellie Moroney.

Mr. P. H. Sugrue, president of the Y. M. C. B. A., was called upon, and in happy speech complimented the society on its progress and prosperity.

A delicious repast was then served, at the conclusion of which Mr. J. J. Whelan thanked the young ladies cordially on behalf of the Y. M. C. B. A., and the evening's pleasure was at an end.

THINKS IT IS A FAKE.

The So-Called Depression in the Iron Market.

A Gentleman Has a Word to Say—Mr S. C. Schenck Also Speaks of the Outlook for the Season.

Mr. S. C. Schenck speaking to a Bee this morning, said: "I hear that the coal supply in the northwest has been reduced to such an extent that when navigation opens the movement of coal to that district will be very brisk. This condition will insure vesselmen a good 'up business.' It is my opinion that the grain business will be unusually big, so it looks as if the season on the lakes would be a busy one."

The Bee afterward talked with several gentlemen interested in the lake business, and brought up the matter of the depression in the iron market, and the effect it would probably have on the ore carrying trade.

Said one of the gentlemen, and one who knows a thing or two about what he is saying: "It is my opinion that this so-called depression in the iron market is all a myth to influence vesselmen in the matter of contracting for carrying ore at low rates. I see no reason for the alleged depression, and you will find before the end of the season that I am right."

CHARGED WITH FORGERY.

A Young Man Arrested For a Serious Offense.

Findlay, March 16.—(Special)—A very important arrest was made in this city yesterday.

A young man 35 years of age, by the name of James Burnon, a son of Frank Burnon, of the village of Mt. Blanchard, this county, was picked up and lodged in jail under a $2,000 bond on the charge of forgery.

About the middle of last month he is alleged to have tried to negotiate a loan by having an abstract and deed made of a farm of 80 acres belonging to his uncle, W. M. Cameron, residing near Rawson.

He is charged with having represented to the county recorder and notary public that he had purchased the farm.

WRENCHED OUT OF SHAPE.

Joints enlarged and contorted by rheumatism are among the penalties for allowing this obstinate malady to gain full headway. Always is it dangerous from its liability to attack the vitals—invariably is it agonizing. Hostetter's Stomach Bitters has in nothing more clearly asserted its supremacy to the ordinary remedies for this malady than in its power to expel the rheumatic virus completely from the blood. It is safe, too, while colchicum, veratrum and mineral poisons prescribed for it are not. The efficacy of the Bitters as a cleanser of the circulation is also conspicuously shown where the poison of miasma infects the vital fluid, or where it is contaminated with bile. Constipation, dyspepsia, "lagrippe," kidney and bladder trouble, nervousness and debility are also removed by it. The convalescing and the aged and infirm derive much benefit from its use.

It is understood that Gov. Ashley, having led the republican forlorn hope two years ago, will claim the congressional nomination this year when the prospect of election, in a new district, is better.

The legislature will be ready to adjourn as soon as the statesmen fix the districts so they can all go to congress. But the daisies may bloom and wither before that is arranged.

The places for holding the democratic primaries will be announced to-morrow. Democrats should avail themselves of the opportunity presented by the primary system and help nominate winning tickets. Attend the primaries on Saturday.

A volume of President Harrison's campaign speeches is just published in Indianapolis, as a campaign document. His pledges to the people, which he has utterly ignored and forgotten should be an appendix.

The lamentable tragedy in Tiffin yesterday, by which five men were shot is charged up to a bad case of grippe. This aggravated type of influenza is made to bear the burden of a multitude of sins. There is more back of the Snyder shooting than was given out at first. Grippe is the mantle of charity to throw over it.

So Mr Griffin has opened up his generous heart and dropped democratic Ottawa in the district with republican Lucas, Fulton and Wood. Well, little Ottawa's 1,500 majority together with the uncertainty of Toledo may surprise the republicans some day. Several republican aspirants couldn't carry one side of that district.

The resolution to consider the Bland silver bill had a majority of 106—an overwhelming majority it is heralded over the country. An analysis of the vote shows that if the republicans had voted no, as they will on the passage of the bill, the majority would have been only six. Many democrats voted no and will continue to resist the 70-cent dollar business until the end.

Gen. Dan Sickles constructs a noble pair of wings for Senator Hill. He stands for everything that Mr. Cleveland stands for and more too, which may be true, but the count for him that "he went into the McKinley district in Ohio and struck the decisive blow that defeated the author of the McKinley bill in his own district," is one too many. There are some things in Buckeye politics that Gen. Sickles has neglected to study. The democratic district had something to do with McKinley's defeat in 1890.

There are 6,335 postmistresses in the United States. Of these Pennsylvania has the greatest number, 463; Virginia, 460; North Carolina, 322; Ohio, 256; New York, 243; Georgia, 216; Texas, 210, and so on through the forty-nine states and territories. It is noticeable that in the southern states, where "woman's rights" are the least considered, the numbers are larger right through. Massachusetts has only 75, Vermont 66, and Connecticut 57 on the list.

The Czar's Council of Empire has ordered that in the future two grain depots shall be established to every 300 peasants' huts, and that from these depots seed corn shall be distributed in the spring to the peasants, who must return it in the autumn. Special bureaus will be established to take care of the situation in case the crops fail. A despotic government (to save itself) will do everything except give its people freedom and a chance to make a living for themselves.

A comprehensive survey of "the water route from Chicago to the ocean," is made by Charles C. Rogers, U. S. N., in the current number of Scribner's magazine. He says, "if a thread be stretched from any point in the English channel to Toledo, on Lake Erie, it will be found that the deviation of the St. Lawrence from it does not exceed thirty miles, this straight line connecting the greatest food-consuming country in Europe with the greatest food producing country in America." From Chicago to Liverpool, by this river, is a distance of 4,500 miles, one-half of which is covered by the great inland route through the lakes. Seventy miles of this waterway are obstructed by channel obstacles. The remarkable figures that stand for trade carried on along these lines are given, with sketches of the cities of Chicago, Milwaukee, Detroit, Toledo, Cleveland, Buffalo and of Canada. The paper is an entertaining one aside from its statistical value. From the interest manifested in the subject it is safe to predict that the next decade will see some wonderful work done in opening this inland waterway to the sea. The strides Chicago is already taking in the commercial world and the growth of the tributary western country, will force its consideration and a new empire, subject to no dictation, will rival the eastern seaboard that has so long held supremacy. It will take time and money to develop the possibilities of this great lake route and its rich territory, but the enterprise of Americans is equal to the undertaking.

American residents of Paris will give Minister Reid a grand blow-out and testimonial on his departure, presenting a series of resolutions laudatory of his good works; among others of these is mentioned his heroic labors to free works of art from a McKinley tax—which he failed to accomplish, though the eulogy does not recite that. As has been said, Mr. Reid will need to have his prohibitive-protection spiritual strength renewed before he can join his old party in their revels even to the extent of a stool in the Tribune office.

When Senator Hill left Washington for the south he forgot his carpet bag that had in it his speeches. He missed it just as the train was to start and left word to have a special engine overtake him with the precious burden at whatever cost. Happily, by holding the train fifteen minutes a messenger with the bag caught its owner and everybody was happy again. When a statesman starts away without his impromptu speeches, it upsets calculations entirely.

More crape for the royal family of England. A son-in-law has gone the way of all

MENTIONED ON THE STREETS.

That in several of the wards of the city democratic meetings will be held this evening.

That nothing has yet dropped up this way in the matter of penitentiary appointments.

That Postmaster Brown held up Toledo's end in the postmaster's conference in Washington.

That Secretary D. B. Smith would adorn the democratic city ticket for one of the gas trusteeships.

That to-night is the time when everything is as merry as the marriage bell with the Toledo cadets.

That Dick Jackson is confident of the democratic nomination for constable, and is equally so of election.

That the reading of Uncle Tom's Cabin is being revived in Toledo, through the push of Brown, Eager & Hull.

That Bronson wills are still missing, and so are the blank marriage licenses recently taken from the court house.

That the appearance of the Ann Arbor and Cornell glee clubs will give Toledoans an opportunity to make comparisons.

That to-morrow is St. Patrick's Day in the Morning, and it is hoped that Old Sol will shine out bright for the parade.

That Perry Werden will be missed from social circles in the city, especially with the Cheery street progressive euchre club.

That Jonas Normanton will take another tilt for the council on the republican side in the Ninth ward caucus on Saturday night.

That it is too bad to spoil Ottawa county's fine democratic majority with the republican voters of Lucas, Wood and Williams counties.

That Toledo has more self-made men within its borders than any other city of its size in the country, and they are all good citizens.

That Fred Skilty is considered as good material for either board from the First ward, and so is Curtice F. Johnson. Both first class men.

That Herman Baumbach is too busy with his infirmary duties to bother with council nominations which some of his friends want to thrust on him.

That it looks as if Jim Pheatt had to run again in the Second ward, and if he does it goes without saying he will be re-elected by a handsome majority.

That Maumee will be reinforced by about a hundred Toledoans to-morrow afternoon, on the occasion of the ceremonies incident to the institution of a new lodge.

That Sanfleet, Voute and the other billiardists of the Ohio Yacht club are anxiously longing for the adjournment of the legislature so Brother Fickinger can take a hand.

That City Auditor Walker's statement must have been read with great satisfaction by W. H. Maher, inasmuch as it touched the "I-told-you-so" line in one, two, three order.

That little Ottawa has been dropped into one congressional district, and now Jim Luckey will be called into the consultations between the faithful of the anti-Shermanite wing.

SUGAR COMBINE.

As Fast as One Trust Goes Under Another Bobs Up.

Philadelphia, March 16.—It is generally reported that a gigantic deal in sugar has taken place in this city in the few days which involves millions of capital and some of the largest independent sugar refineries in the country—those of Harrison, Frazier & Co., and that operated by E. C. Knight & Co.

Mr. Harrison refused to either confirm or deny the report and all others who might be able to answer were equally reticent, but the presence in this city of a representative of the sugar trust, who had conferences with both firms, gives color to the report.

CAN'T OPEN HER MOUTH.

Wooster, O., March 16.—Miss Emma Mowery, a young lady residing on Madison Hill, a suburb of this city, is suffering from tetanus, or lockjaw, and has not been able to open her mouth for over a week.

The only nourishment she has been able to take in this time has been in the shape of liquids forced between her teeth. The disease is believed to have resulted from a cold contracted while she was suffering with mumps. She is the eldest daughter of Nathaniel Mowery, a wealthy retired farmer.

NEW CORPORATIONS.

Columbus, O., March 16.—The following articles of incorporation were filed in the office of the secretary of state to-day: The Cisco Mining company, Cleveland, capital stock, $25,000; the Pan American Medical congress, Cincinnati; the Phoenix club, Cincinati, capital stock $75,000; the Tawana Fishing and Boating company, Sidney, capital stock, $1,000; the Theatrical Mechanical association, of Dayton, O.; the Ohio Coal and Mining company, Mineral Point, capital stock, $50,000.

REPUBLICAN NOMINATIONS.

Newark, O., March 16.—The delegates to the republican city and township met in the convention room of the court house and nominated the following ticket:

Mayor, Major Edwin Nichols; city civil engineer, Walter M. Smith; cemetery trustee, John Miller; township clerk, B. R. Nott; justice of the peace, B. S. Taylor; trustee, L. H. Insco.

CORDIAL RELATIONS.

New York, March 16.—A special to the Herald from Buenos Ayres says that President Pelligrini, and a member of the cabinet, visited Admiral Walker's squadron at La Plata Monday. They invited Admiral Walker in turn to inspect the Argentine navy.

CHILE'S CABINET.

New York, March 16.—A Herald special from Valparaiso says that President Montt and his new cabinet will return from Valpariso to Santiago during the coming week.

The composition of the cabinet is excellent and all of the ministers are in accord.

FRUIT HOUSE SCORCHED.

Mansfield, March 16.—Fire originating from a stove kept heated to prevent the fruit from freezing, caused a loss of several thousand dollars to the fruit house of M. J. Jackson last night.

MYSTERIOUSLY MISSING.

Salem, O., March 16.—George Davis, collector for Paul Schaffer, has mysteriously disappeared. He has always borne a good reputation. There are rumors of foul play.

HAS AN HEIRESS ATTACHED

Cyrus W. Teed and His Religious Scheme.

He Talks to the Earthly Newspape Reporters on the Prospects of His Success.

Chicago, March 16.—Cyrus W. Teed, the "Korash" Christ of the Fourth ward, reached "heaven" at No. 244 College Place last night from his two months' trip among his apostles and followers in California.

Speaking to the earthly newspaper representative he said:

"During my trip west I arranged to remove all the western followers to Chicago. We will secure employment for them in industrial plants we will start here.

"Yes, I was accompanied by a young heiress."

"And her name, age and amount of cash?"

"I can say nothing of that. She is old enough to think for herself, and embraced the doctrine of Korash of her own free will."

"It is said she is worth $200,000?"

"I have nothing to say on that,' and a nice, rosy blush swept over his smiling face.

"What of your success in uniting in one all the celibate societies of the land?"

"I will succeed. They will be organized with the Korash of Chicago as the central body, and the others as branches."

THE PUBLIC MEETING

Not Productive of Very Great Good.

Many Men of Many Minds, But Nothing Tangible is Offered on the Gas Condition That Confronts Us.

The meeting of the citizens with the mayor's committee in the council chamber last evening was not very prolific in the production of facts or information on the matter now claiming the attention of the mayor and the committee.

The full committee, Messrs. Emmick, Burdick, Tucker, Forbes, Romeis and Lane, were present. Several candidates for the gas trusteeship were on hand.

Among others present were J. F. Kumler, T. H. Tracy, Trustees Parsons and Jones, Aldermen Hartford and Huberich, T. P. Brown, A. E. Macomber, A. W. Machen, Geo. E. Lorenz, Henry Speilbusch.

Mayor Emmick called the meeting to order and briefly stated the object of the meeting. He said the time of each speaker would be limited to 10 minutes. Everyone who desired would have an opportunity of speaking. He said the chief question was, now that we have a pipe line, what are we going to do with it?

There was a prolonged silence and finally Mayor Emmick called upon Mr. T. P. Brown.

Mr. Brown said it appeared to him that the present pressure was sufficient to bring the gas to the city. It was foolish to say "Throw away the plant." It had cost a million dollars, and it wouldn't do to make of it a failure.

C. W. Bond said the question was whether it was better to get the gas by force of nature or by mechanical means. Pressure is what is required. If some mechanical means can be found to keep up the pressure, well and good. The committee should know as much as anyone what is needed. The question should be decided by experts. He called on A. W. Machen to say something.

Mr. Machen agreed with Mr. Bond. The matter should be left in the hands of the committee or of experts.

Mr. Brown suggested that some of the committee say something.

Mr. Tucker, speaking for the committee, said they were there to receive, not to give information.

Alderman W. H. Hartford thought it would be proper for the committee to make some statement.

R. G. W. Foster asked if the committe had any power to act.

Mayor Emmick said the committee would investigate and report with recommendations.

Mr. Foster proceeded to score all who opposed the pipe line. He said it was absurd to say that pumps will not pump gas. "If the trustees want money for pumps," he said, "let us furnish the trustees money."

"If nature can't pump gas in the winter, then the trustees can and should. The gas plant will pay 15 or 20 per cent. this year. It is the first and only city institution that has paid a dividend, the thing to do is to let the gas trustees alone."

John F. Kumler was called for and said the discussion was a little premature, Mr. Brown thinks he said, that the city had had a plentiful supply of high pressure gas, on the other hand Mr. Foster advocated pumps. The thing to do was for the committee to frame facts as found by it and then call a meeting to discuss these facts and take some action tending to carry out such recommendations as might be made. The trustees also might be consulted in the matter as to the pressure, volume, and so forth. He suggested that the meeting be postponed for one week until the committee had time to report.

E. H. Potter said the committee was seeking information. The meeting had not been called to discuss the question of pumps. He was opposed to adjourning with a view of acting as jurors on some further date on the report of the committee. It had occured to him that it might be wiser to take some means of saving the gas that comes here instead of seeking more gas.

Mr. Romeis said the committee had no secrets from the public. The papers had fully and fairly reported the progress of the investigation. The committee was there seeking information.

Mr. Kumler replying said Mr. Romeis' statements were somewhat conflicting. The committee had its secrets, and yet Mr Romeis states all the facts were published. The public ought to know the facts. The report of the committee will have great weight in determining the future action relative to the pipe line.

Mr. Tracy said he believed that gas can be supplied from high pressure territory and it can also be supplied from the low pressure territory by the use of pumps. The committee should report at once An act of the legislature will be necessary if the trustees are either to sink wells or buy pumps.

Mr. Burdick said the committee was competent to make a report. He would say to Mr. Kumler it wouldn't be fair for a jury to render a decision before hearing the evidence. Mr. Foster, he said, also reflected somewhat on the committee. Complaint had been made that no opportunity had been given the public to give the committee facts. This committee was there to hear facts, not advice or suggestions.

Mr. Bond thought it was a piece of assumption for that meeting to advise the committee.

Mr. Foster said he was there to give facts. It was a fact that gas could be pumped. This was the extent of Mr. Foster's information.

J. P. Delphey had also some advice to give.

Dr. Jones was called up. He said he came there to listen. He might cite a few facts. They were now getting about 10,000,000 feet a day. To-day the pressure is about 90 pounds on the line at the wells. He said that with a pressure of 400 pounds in the field the output here would be 40,000,000 feet instead of 10,000,000 feet. If the trustees had the money they could buy 50,000,000 feet of gas with a pressure of 200 or 250 pounds. It was necessary to have about $100,000 more. There will be gas in the Toledo field as long as wind blows and water runs. The $100,000 could be repaid, in his opinion, in two months.

It was not now a matter of competition between Toledo and the Northwestern. Both companies together cannot supply the Toledo consumers. He would be glad if the Northwestern could supply everyone in Toledo. He didn't believe that the Northwestern looked upon Toledo as a competitor. What was needed was financial aid, and that promptly.

Mathew Bartlett believed the trouble was due to oil in the line. He gave his experience in the oil business. No real oil well ever went dry, and no real gas well ever gave out.

Henry Spellbusch said he didn't think "you can pump gas out of gas wells any more than you can pump water out of a dry well." He believed in going into the dry territory and getting more wells. He believed in increasing the price of gas.

Councilman Caldwell scored the committee for either insincerity or lack of wisdom, and also gave some advice. He thought that forty or fifty miles more of pipe should be laid. We want gas, he said, and we want it bad, and we must have it. The East Side statesman made quite a number of recommendations that were edifying, even if not very interesting or instructive.

Jonas Normanton had a few words of instruction and advice.

Judge Howe and Mr. O. S. Brumback spoke briefly and the committee retired to consider its report.

After the public meeting the mayor's committee held an informal meeting. The matter was discussed at some length, but nothing was done beyond deciding that they would decide upon something Friday evening, to report to the gas trustees Monday evening following.

Said a Bee to a member of the committee this morning: "Can you tell what the probable report of the committee will be?"

"I can not. We have been taking evidence, I might say, and as yet no one of the committee has expressed to another member just what his views were on the subject. So you see I am entirely in the dark on the subject, and the other members are in the same boat. It is like asking a juryman to tell you the verdict of the jury before they have agreed on it. Each one of the committee has been taking in the situation in his own way and Friday evening we will put those opinions together."

"What was the result of last evening's meeting on the minds of the members of the committee?"

"Well, I don't think the committee gained any new points. Ideas at the meeting wandered. Those present did not stick to the question in hand. The result of the meeting will not tend to influence the committee one way or the other."

WERE FOUND GUILTY.

Findlay, O., March 16.—The trial of Winfield Ludwig and David Harvey, of Dunkirk, on the charge of stealing wheat from the farm of Jacob Peppel, has ended. The defendants were found guilty of both burglary and petit larceny.

DR. TIDY DEAD.

An Important Witness in the Maybrick Case Passes Away.

London, March 16.—Dr. Tidy, the eminent analyist for the government, who testified for the prosecution in the case against Mrs. Maybrick on the trial for poisoning her husband, is dead.

The testimony of Dr. Tidy as to the nature of the poison administered and the effect as shown in the analysis of the stomach and other organs had a great deal to do with securing the conviction, and his death removes an important, if not essential witness, in the event the home office should see fit to reopen the case.

IN OLD AGE.

(Written on My Eighty-seventh Birthday.)

What is it now to live? It is to breathe
The air of Heaven, behold the pleasant earth,
The shining rivers, the inconstant sea,
Sublimity of mountains, wealth of clouds,
And radiance o'er all of countless stars.
It is to sit before the cheerful hearth
With groups of friends and kindred, store of books.
Rich heritage from ages past,
Hold sweet communion, soul with soul,
On things now past, present or to come,
Or muse alone upon my earlier days,
Unbind the scroll, whereon is writ
The story of my busy life;
Mistakes too often, but successes more,
And consciousness of duty done.
It is to see with laughing eyes the play
Of children sporting on the lawn,
Or mark the eager strifes of men
And nations, seeking each and all,
Belike advantage to obtain
Above their fellows; such is man!
It is to feel the pulses quicken, as I hear
Of great events near or afar,
Whereon may turn perchance
The fate of generations, ages hence.
It is to rest with folded arms betimes,
And so surrounded, so sustained,
Ponder on what may yet befall
In that unknown, mysterious realm
Which lies beyond the range of mortal ken,
Where souls immortal do forever dwell;
Think of the loved ones who await me there,
And without murmuring or inward grief,
With mind unbroken and no fear,
Calmly await the coming of the Lord.

—David Dudley Field in the Independent.

Since the high license law went into effect in Georgia the six saloon keepers of the little lumberport Darien have consolidated their six bars into one, which they have fitted up in first-class style. The town revenue has been reduced by this arrangement.

R. C. Brown, who went to Colorado in 1859 without a dollar, has now nearly completed at Denver the finest hotel west of the Mississippi, which will cost him $1,500,000. A quarter section of land, which he entered 30 years ago for $200, is to-day worth $5,000,000.

Mr. Gianaclis is said to be the best judge of tobacco in the world. Last year 2,500,000 of his cigarettes, which are commonly known as "Nestors," passed through the Boston custom house, and during the present month 150,000 have been entered there. The cigarette pay a duty of $4 a pound and are sold at 5 cents a piece, or 40 cents for a box of ten cigarettes.

During the early part of this century and previously the official tax gatherers on the Island of Hawaii, in the Sandwich group, did all their accounts on a rope 2,400 feet long, which was divided into lengths, each corresponding to a district. Loops, knots and feather tufts along the rope served as memoranda for the hogs, pigs and pieces of sandal wood collected from taxpayers.

The single tribe of the Betsi Fangs, in the Kongo country, according to De Brazza, numbers over 2,000,000 souls. Their most important villages are from three to ten miles back from the rivers. Father Lejeune estimates that along the Ogowe river from Lambarene to Ndyole there are 200,000 Fangs. All the rivers forming a network through the country are in the possession of this race.

It is understood by the Roman populace that Beatrice Cenci is now in heaven. There has been a legend that when she was executed she went to purgatory, and that she was to stay there so long as the Borghese family, to whom the pope distributed the Cenci property, kept it with profit and enjoyment. The Borgheses are now almost ruined, and so it is believed and reported in Rome that Beatrice's punishment is ended.

The New York Evening Post tells of a hale and hearty blacksmith in Corydon, Ind., who has just celebrated his 112th birthday. It is stated that he never took a dose of medcine until after he had passed the century mark; but by a very unusual oversight no remark is made to the effect that he had never touched tobacco or liquor, or that he had used them regularly from early childhood.

A live manatee or sea cow was caught in Biscayne Bay a few days ago, reports the Eutis Lake, Fla., Region. It gave its captors a lively time and some hard work to get across the bay. Sometimes it came along as quiet as a lamb after being exhausted by its efforts to escape. Then, when somewhat rested, it would break away, and, to prevent swamping their little boat, they would have to give it rope and let it run awhile.

The Japanese art of making miniature landscapes and gardens consists chiefly in starving the plants so as to retard the circulation of the sap of life-giving juices. Furgerson, who was one among the first of English adventurers to visit China and Japan, mentions the fact that he saw at Canton "a boxe about the bigniss of ladyes snuffe-box, which did contain a littyl dirt and sixteen tiny little trees, foure of which were in full blow, the whole boxe, trees and all, so small that a man could put them in hys mouth together."

Mrs. Patsy Sears, who lives in Howard county, Indiana, is said to be 108 years old, although she claims to be two years older. She did not learn to read until she was over 80 years of age, and she has since read the Bible through seven times and Josephus' History of the Jews once. She has been a zealous Baptist for over 100 years and an incessant smoker for over 90 years. Her eyesight remains as clear as ever, her teeth are unimpaired, and she is in possession of her mental faculties.

The average length of life of miners is 31 years. Machinists are outlived by printers, the average of the former being but 38 years, while that of the latter is 39. Musicians live a year longer, while the lease of life of an editor is 41, and that of manufacturers, bankers and brokers is 43. Clergymen average 54, lawyers 55, public officers 56, farmers 63, and judges 65. Glass-blowers, saloon keepers, painters, grinders and weavers do not reach the average of 30, and the lowest average is shown in the lives of seamstresses—23 years.

ENTERTAINMENTS.

Donnelly and Girard in Natural Gas To-Night.

McLean and Prescott in Cleopatra and Spartacus—"His Nibs, the Baron," Next Week.

Donnelly and Girard, the favorites, will be at Wheeler's this evening, for the second time this season, and they will receive a hearty welcome. Their bright comedy, Natural Gas, requires no recommendation. It is simply the purest light of merriment that has yet been turned on anywhere, and in its bright refulgence, fun, tuneful singing, nimble dancing, and laughter-provoking situations, dull care is driven far out of sight. Each year Natural Gas has come to us brighter and more sparkling, and this year Manager Samuel P. Cox has imprisoned a whole company of sunbeams that makes Natural Gas as brilliant as the sun itself. Many clever songs and dances have been added, the scenery is entirely new, and the play is brimful of wholesome, good-natured fun that makes anyone feel happy a whole week after having seen it.

Cleopatra.

The Boston Herald has the following praise for McLean and Prescott, who will give three performances at Wheeler's, Friday and Saturday:

An unusually large and fashionable audience was present last evening to accord a welcome to R. D. MacLean and Miss Marie Prescott, at the Grand Opera house, on the occasion of the opening by these two artists of a short season of tragedy. If the size and enthusiasm of the audience on the opening night be any criterion, these two artists and a really fine company will repeat in this city the success recently made in New York.

Cleopatra was the play selected for the opening, and proved a great drawing card, and many were the comments and comparisons heard, and it must be said they were in the main favorable to Mr. MacLean and Miss Prescott.

Mr. MacLean has an exceptionally strong, clear voice and a fine physique, and before he had spoken ten words had won his way into the friendship and good will of his auditors, which included many of Boston's "Four Hundred."

Of Miss Prescott as Cleopatra, it can be said that she surprised even her most ardent admirers in this city, and she is an acknowledged favorite with a Boston audience. That she had given the part careful study was manifest, and her reading of the lines was intelligent, forceful and at all times pleasing. In Cleopatra Miss Prescott is at her best.

His Nibs, the Baron.

Songs, dances, concerted evolutions, pantomimic diversities, operatic hits, novel specialties and acrobatic feats, in conjunction with a play said to be funny in the extreme, fairly well describes His Nibs, the Baron, the attraction billed for the People's next week.

The play is by Edwin Holst, and has received the stamp of metropolitan approval. The story is non-conventional and not improbable, hitting snob aristocracy and striking at the fadisms of the day.

The features offered are new, many of them being offered for the first time in His Nibs—the "Shoo-Shoo," "Mirror" and Jeanette Miller dances being among them. The usual number of specialties, including selections by the Royal Star Quartet, are introduced incidentally. Miss Lilly LaVerde, one of America's greatest dancers, and the acknowledged rival of Carmencita, is given an opportunity to display her terpsichorean accomplishments.

THEY NEVER FAIL.

J. N. Harris, 3 Fulton Market, New York city, says:

"I have been using Brandreth's Pills for the last fifteen years. There is nothing equal to them as blood purifiers and liver regulators. But I wish to state how remarkably they cure rheumatism, and how easily; I was affected by rheumatism in the legs. My business (wholesale fish dealer) naturally leads me to damp places. I could not walk, and at night I suffered fearfully; I tried balsams, sarsaparillas, and all kinds of tinctures, but they did me no good and I was afraid of being a cripple. I finally commenced using Brandreth's Pills. I took two every night for ten nights, then I began to improve. I continued taking them for forty days and I got entirely well. Now, whenever sick, I take Brandreth's Pills. They never fail."

TOLEDO MEDICAL COLLEGE

Eleventh Annual Commencement Last Night.

Addresses Delivered and Diplomas Awarded — Professor North Talks Plainly—The Banquet Alumni Officers.

After fitting and entertaining ceremonies at Memoral hall last evening, eight more physicians were sent forth to administer to the aches and pains of suffering humanity, having completed a thorough course in medicine under the direction of the able faculty of the Toledo Medical college. It was the eleventh annual commencement of this institution, and the large attendance and unusual interest manifested marked the event as the most successful since the establishment of the college.

Hon. D. R. Austin was master of ceremonies, and in a pleasant manner introduced Rev. Charles Scadding, who delivered a very interesting address.

In his remarks he enjoined the necessity of a knowledge and faith in the teachings of God as essential to success in the science of medicine. The idea of God must come first to the intellect, and above all others, a physician should be a Christian. They see so much of the human body, evidence of the design and handiwork of a supreme being.

Mr. Scadding argued that success in any avocation in life was not due wholly to the knowledge attained by study and practice. The surgeon in operating on the eye must be able to cut to a hair's breadth in accuracy, and the success or failure of the operation greatly depends on the sensation in the hand given by God in the sense of touch.

He called attention to the value of study and of keeping abreast of the times while practicing. He laid special stress upon the necessity of reading up and keeping posted, and above all not to get married too soon. He advised strict economy and an ambition to become eminent in the profession. He closed with a beautiful tribute to the faculty.

Hon. D. R. Austin conferred the title of doctor upon the members of the class and presented the diplomas, as follows: B. W. Minton, Miss R. Blackburn, A. D. Hobart, J. T. Iler, G. S. Clarke, Mrs. M. E. Emery, L. W. Briggs, F. G. Shultz.

Prof. John North then delivered an address to the graduates. He covered a physician's career from the time the title of doctor was conferred upon him to its final close. He spoke of the code of ethics and the obligation of a true physician to the same. He discussed medical skepticism and the danger of its methods. He warned the class to keep up in their reading and not become fossilized. He talked in a most entertaining manner of the progress of medicine and the boundless fields for exploration. He spoke as follows of "Physicians as Murderers:"

Our civil laws prohibit murder, and prescribe punishment for the same. The sixth commandment says, "Thou shalt not kill," and Christ in His sermon on the Mount reiterated the same thing.

Yet in the face of the law of the commandment, and of Christ, the paint will not have time to dry upon your new-made sign, before Christian (?) fathers and mothers will come to you, and for money ask you to commit murder, to kill their children. You are shocked at the very idea of becoming a murderer.

A female with all the grace and beauty of a woman, with the sweetest of smiles upon her face, will come to you and offer you a sum of money, and ask you to kill her unborn child. I would just as soon kill the mother as her child.

Don't become murderers. Don't start out in life with the mark of Cain upon you. You can never overcome its effect.

We are thankful that we did not have such mothers.

Thank God some of us have had old fashioned mothers. Not a woman of the period, enameled and painted with her curls and bangs, whose white jeweled hands never felt the clasp of baby fingers; but a dear old-fashioned, sweet voiced mother, with eyes in whose clear depths the love-light shone, and hair just threaded with silver, lying smooth upon her faded cheek.

Those dear hands, worn from toil, gently guided our tottering steps in childhood, and smoothed our pillow in sickness, or reaching out to us in yearning tenderness. Blessed is the memory of an old-fashioned mother.

The music of other voices may be lost, but the entrancing memory of hers will echo in our souls forever. Other faces may fade away and be forgotten, but hers will shine on and on forever.

When in the fitful pauses of business life our feet wander back to the old homestead, and crossing the well worn threshold stand once more in the room so hallowed by her presence, how the feeling of childhood, innocence and dependence comes over us, and we kneel down in the molten sunshine, streaming through the open window— just where long years ago we knelt by our mother's knee, lisping "Our Father." How many times when the tempter lured us on, has the memory of those social hours, that mother's words, her faith and prayers, saved us from plunging into the deep abyss of s[illegible]

Years have filled great drifts between her and us, but they have not hidden from our sight the glory of her pure, unselfish love.

As pure and unselfish as is the love of the mother, equally as pure and unselfish is the love, companionship and loyalty of the wife.

The wife is frequently spoken of as the "better half of man." In most cases she is the better nine-tenth of man.

No one can share the joys and achievements of your life equal to that of the wife, and no one will take upon themselves the burdens of your life as she will do.

When the finger of scorn is pointed at you, and your best friends suspect, and turn from you, then you can turn to your wife and you will find no disappointment there. If you have erred she will take the blame upon herself and shield her husband.

"The treasures of the deep are not so precious
As are the concealed comforts of a man,
Locked up in woman's love."

The Religious Duty of the Physician.

To come in contact with the sick and dying, and to be able to offer hope and consolation to the soul, after you can do no more for the body, becomes one of the greatest duties and obligations of the Christian physician.

It cannot be that earth is man's only abiding place. It cannot be that our life is a bubble cast up by the ocean of eternity, to float a moment upon its surface and then sink into nothingness and darkness forever; else why is it that the high and glorious aspirations which leap like angels from the temples of our hearts are forever wandering abroad unsatisfied?

Why is it that the forms of human beauty are presented to the view and taken from us, leaving the thousand streams of affection to flow back in Alpine torrents upon our hearts?

I will close with a brief extract from the writings of Paracelsus, a physician who lived more than four hundred years ago.

"One of the most necessary requirements for a physician is perfect purity and singleness of purpose. He should be free of ambition, vanity, envy, unchastity, pomposity and self conceit, because these vices are the outcome of ignorance and incompatible with the light of divine wisdom which should illuminate the mind of the true physician. But our practitioners of medicine will not believe me when I say that it is necessary that a physician to be successful should be virtuous; because they imagine that success is due only to learning, and they cannot realize that all true wisdom and power is derived from God."

The valedictory address was made by G. S. Clark, a member of the class. Mr. Clark has a splendid presence, and his able effort on this occasion is evidence of a rare literary ability.

This concluded the exercises at Memorial hall, and the guests invited to participate in the banquet festivities were conveyed to the St. James hotel in carriages. Here a dainty repast was laid, which was partaken of amidst happiness on all sides. The speakers chosen to enliven the event were at their best, and their responses to the toasts added delight to the occasion. The banquet was a success in every feature.

The alumni met at the college on Lagrange street yesterday afternoon and elected the following officers: President, Dr. H. G. Blaine; vice-president, Dr. C. J. Heyler, jr.; treasurer, Dr. C. J. Mills; secretary, Dr. Geo Clark; orator, Dr. B. W. Winton; historian, Dr. L. W. Briggs.

RESOLUTIONS OF RESPECT

Adopted by the Trustees of the Protestant Hospital.

Whereas, Our Heavenly Father, in His unerring love and wisdom, has taken from our midst our beloved physician and co-worker, Dr. S. S. Lungren; and

Whereas, From the very inception of the hospital work he has been most earnest and untiring in the furtherance of its interests, upholding it in its direst necessities, willing always to give of his time, strength and means, and ever ready with his will and patient tenderness to relieve the suffering of even the humblest inmate, or give counsel from his ripe experience; therefore, be it

Resolved, That the board of trustees of the Protestant hospital, while bowing with reverent submission to the Divine will, deeply deplore that they may no longer receive the benefit of his wise counsels, or enjoy the pleasure of his genial companionship in their work.

Resolved, That they hereby tender to his wife and family their sincerest sympathy in this great bereavement.

REPORTERS' SECRETS.

The Newspaper Man as a Confidant—He Seldom Prints the Most Interesting Things He Knows.

That newspapers print all that they hear is a supposition entertained by the people who bring what they think is news to newspaper offices.

That newspapers print nothing that they hear from irresponsible sources, without investigation, is the truth known to all trained newspaper men. That they do not print all they know, is known also to all trained newspaper men.

That they do not print more than from one-tenth to one-half of what they know, is the truth; and it is known only to one or two men in every newspaper office, whose business is to decide whether a "story" is worth "following out," and whether after "following it out," it is proper for publication.

Even those men, unless they are of an introspective and retrospective turn of mind, do not realize the enormous quantity of chaff they winnow for the public's daily loaf.

Fierce as competition is, there could to-day be started in every large city of the east a newspaper which would outstrip every other newspaper in the vital interest of its news by simply printing what the other newspapers refused to print. This news would all of it, too, be within legal and conventional bounds of decency.

Then why not start such a newspaper? will be asked. Such newspapers have been started in plenty, but none were sustained.

The reason, simply though seemingly paradoxical, is that the stock in trade of every solidly-established newspaper is the news it does not print.

In other words, confidence is the source of every piece of really valuable news; and to maintain that confidence and obtain that news the newspaper man must daily sacrifice a vast amount of readily printable and vastly readable matter the publication of which would cut him off from his sources of supply.

This is the reason why the newspaper man is the best confidant in the world. He cannot betray confidences in type for fear of cutting off future supplies of news.

He cannot betray them in speech, for fear that some one else will betray them in type and thereby expose him to the reproaches both of the source of his news and the source of his income.

If the theory be not conclusive, let me call a witness to the fact. I may not do so by name—too many thousands know it—but I may describe the witness as a man who for a dozen years has been connected with the administration of justice in one of the great eastern cities. His language was, "I have always taken newspaper men into my confidence and I have been betrayed but once."

In that dozen years that man had seen and talked to a dozen newspaper men a day. The confidence to which he admitted them [illegible] most salable and the most prin[illegible]ginable. The eminence of his [illegible] the mention of his name in [illegible]ger-board which would halt the [illegible] of the most careless newspaper reader.

The nature of it would make any secret he could reveal of startling interest. He had probably never laid the injunction of secrecy on any one of the men to whom he had talked.

They intuitively understood what was for print and what was not, and but one of them had broken faith. In that dozen years that man had seen a hundred lawyers break faith with everything in heaven and earth but their clients' interests.

He had seen doctors by the dozen prostitute knowledge and pervert science to save the lives or liberties of wretches with "position" to shield them or with money to pay an "expert's" fee. He had come into contact scores of times with that curious obliquity of vision of the clergy which prevented them so often from observing the age and condition of persons joined by them in wedlock that a remedy had to be applied by statute in their state, to the profitable scandalization of the cloth in New Jersey.

Yet he had observed only a single dishonorable action on the part of the newspaper craft. This certainly was not because the newspaper men were less full of human frailty than their brethren of the professions which are called learned.

It was simply because those men who were tempted to betray his confidence could not afford to do so.

One night, not many months ago, two men met at the door of a metropolitan newspaper office. One was coming out, the other was going in. They recognized each other with some difficulty, so slight was their acquaintance, exchanged salutations, and then, upon the incomer's informing the outgoer that the purpose of his call was a visit to him, passed up the street in earnest conversation.

One might not have known that one of the pair was an editor, but he never would have missed naming the other as an ecclesiastic. For two squares they strolled, the churchman doing most of the talking, the newsman listening and throwing in an occasional word.

Then, when their ways parted, they stepped, and the listener took the part of orator. "I will tell you frankly, doctor," he said, "that there is not a newspaper in this country that would not gladly print every word that you propose to say, and not a single one of them would give you the slightest editorial support. You would be just as much liable to church discipline as if you had said it to your bishop in convocation."

"I will think it over," said the divine; and the two parted.

This was, I think, the most remarkable case of confidence in my observation. The ecclesiastic was rector of one of the largest and oldest parishes in the east.

He had seen the newspaper man but twice before, yet he put before him a most tempting morceau in the way of a "religious sensation," and parted from him on a street corner without even the perfunctory enjoinder to secrecy which men lay in imparting the most trivial bit of gossip whose paternity they do not care to own. Of course the question of conscience entered largely into this case.

The newspaper man knew by reputation and admired the clergyman, and did not care to see his useful future sacrificed for a newspaper "scoop."—Lippincott's

Electric lighting of steam cars in Europe appears to be becoming quite common. The Jura-Simplon (steam) railway, Switzerland, has 120 of its vehicles, including 50 passenger cars, lighted by electricity from storage batteries. An express train running betwkeen Berlin and Frankfort has been fitted with the electric light. Each coach has two distinct circuits, so that, in case of accident to one circuit, the carriage shall not be left without light. The storage batteries have a capacity of 200 ampere hours. The batteries, which weigh 600 pound each, are placed in the boxes underneath the carriage floor. The system of lighting the Brighton (England) company's train is as follows: A dynamo placed in the guard's van is driven by a belt from one of the axles below when the train is in motion. This charges a set of accumulators, carried in the same van, which keep the light running during stoppages. The dynamo runs in either direction, and adjusts itself automatically. It is said that the cost is about twice that of oil lighting, but this, it is confidently expected, will be reduced in time. In France, after several successful experiments with the electric lighting of trains on the Paris, Lyons & Mediterranean line, the company has decided to light the whole of its trains in this way.

READ THIS
Toledo, Ohio, Jan. 30th, 1888.
Mr. Richard Belton—Dear Sir: I, the undersigned, do hereby tender you my sincere thanks that I was enabled to use your "Catarrh Remedy," which I now consider Excelsior to any other medicine for the same purpose. My wife and I recommend to every one else your medicine above named to be a cure if taken according to instructions.
Yours respectfully,

City Auditor's Office.

Toledo, O., March 8th, 1892.

The committee on ways and means of the common council of the City of Toledo, Ohio, and the undersigned, invite sealed proposals at this office to at 7 o'clock p. m. for the purchase of Street Improvement Bonds to the amount of Twenty-five Thousand Three Hundred and Thirty-seven 74-100 ($25,337 74-100) Dollars, bearing date March 6, 1892, and payable as follows: Fifteen Hundred and Eighty-seven 74-100 Dollars, ($1,587 74-100) on March 6, 1893, and Twelve Hundred and Fifty Dollars at the expiration of every six months thereafter, to and including September 6, 1902, at the office of the city treasurer with interest at the rate of five (5) per cent. per annum, payable semi-annually at the same place as evidenced by coupons to be attached to said bonds.

Said Improvement Bonds are issued pursuant to Section 2704 to 2707 of the Revised Statutes of the State of Ohio, and also under an ordinance of the common council of the City of Toledo, Ohio, "To provide for the issue of improvement bonds to pay the cost and expense of the improvement of Front street, from Bridge street to Port Clinton Turnpike."—Passed Feb. 15th, 1892.

The denominations of these bonds will be first payment one bond of $337 74-100 and two of $625 each, and thereafter two of $625 each payment.

The said bonds will be sold at not less than par and accrued interest, to the highest bidder.

Bidders will be required to state the gross amount they will pay for the bonds besides the accrued interest to date of delivery at Toledo, Ohio. They will also be required to deposit with each bid an amount of money or a certified check on some responsible bank equal to at least five (5) per centum of the par value of the bonds, so bid for, as a guarantee of good faith, and that the bid so made (if successful) will be fulfilled in accordance with the terms thereof, and the requirements of the law and ordinances. When the bids have been examined, and the award made according to law, all monies or checks deposited as guarantees shall be returned to the depositor, or held by the city auditor subject to his call except that of the successful bidder, which shall be held and considered, and accepted as part payment of the bonds so awarded or sold, but should there be any repudiation of the contract or agreement, or refusal to accept and pay for the bonds so sold, then and in that case the deposit shall be forfeited to the city of Toledo, and shall become the property of said city, in compensation for loss and expenses attending the sale of said bonds and as liquidated damages for repudiation of bid. And no bid will be received if not accompanied by money or check aforesaid.

The right is reserved to reject any or all bids.

Proposals should be addressed to the Auditor of the city of Toledo, Ohio," and be indorsed "Proposals for improvement bonds."

W. T. WALKER, City Auditor.

Wheat Quotations for the Day—Price Current for Produce and Other Articles

The Markets.

London wheat market dull and easier corn steady. Liverpool wheat dull and 1-2 pence lower; corn 1 1-4 pence lower.

The receipts of wheat at seven principal western points to-day are 490,125 bu, compared with 349,997 bu on the same day last year.

The receipts of wheat to-day at Minneapolis and Duluth are 347,344 bus, and at other five points but 142,781 bus.

The export clearances yesterday at four Atlantic ports were 315,247 bus and flour to an aggregate of 600,000 bus. The exports of corn were 618,276 bus and of oats 13,058 bus.

The English markets reported herein are dull and lower for both wheat and corn.

Crop Reports.

In our hurry and scramble for information about crops and the movement of grain all over the world, a great mass of doubtful value, because lacking the element of reliability. To-day these figures tend to strengthen the market, and tomorrow they are changed to repress the other side of the question. It is an old maxim that a dealer quited by statistics "goes broke." Talent is stronger than statistics. We want to know it all. We want to know too much. We knew it all at last harvest, but the information cost a great deal of money to many a dealer. The world's wheat field is a large one, and is capable of immense expansion. Rye, oats, and barley are used for food when wheat is not cheap and the man who deals in wheat on the basis of a world's deficiency stands on a slippery place. Under such uncertainties to those engaged in the trade the reproduction by farmer's alliances, of all the extreme calculations of deficiency, simply emphasize an absurdity.

Our own crop reports are of course indispensable, and yet they are frequently very inaccurate. Farmers are more and more disposed to make deceptive reports. The estimate for 1890 was at least 25,000,000 too small, and when you reduce the crop of 1891 to 60 pounds to the bushel and deduct the damage and worthless wheat, you must reduce the aggregate 20,000 bus. "And moreover because the preacher was wise he still taught the people knowledge.

The Markets To-day.

Bradstreets' report of the visible supply makes wheat east of the Rockies decreased 1,653,000 bus.; corn, increased 1,130,000 bus.; oats increased 453,000 bus. On the Pacific slope wheat decreased 49,000 bus. Gross decrease in wheat 1,702,000 bus.

Ohio Wheat Crop Reports.

We have seen letters to-day from Akron, Ohio, which give a discouraging account of the growing wheat. The cold weather after the rain was more than some of the weak plants could stand.

The conviction in the minds of dealers that wheat had declined sufficiently, together with reports of damage to the growing crop, started prices of wheat a little higher this morning, and during the morning the market continued to strengthen until more than one cent was gained at Chicago, on the May future. New York gained about as much, and that seemed to be about all the market could do, and the price broke off somewhat, closing about 3-4c above yesterday.

Corn has received a little strength from the wheat market, and closes about 1-4c higher east and west.

Foreign markets present no important change.

In New York March wheat closed 1c and May 3-4c higher. March corn 1-4c and May 1-8c; May oats 1-4c, all higher.

In Chicago May wheat closed 3-4c up. March and May corn 1-8c@1-4c up. May oats 1-4c up.

In Toledo the business in wheat has been quite active, and for the first time the July sales were equal to May. The prevalence of crop damage reports was an element in the deal, and for that and other reasons the market was firm. Opening sales were at an advance of 3-8c with but little change for the first hour, but later prices gained about 1c additional and closed 1c up for May and 11-4c for July. On the call May sold at 92c to 92 1-8c and July at 88c. After the call May sold at 92 1-8c to 92c and closed at 92 3-4c. July sold at 88 1-4c to 89 1-8c and closed at 89c. August sold at 89c.

Cash wheat was in better request, and a cargo was purchased at 1-4c under May. No. 2 soft sold at 92 1-2@92 3-4c, closing at 1-2c, a gain of 3-4 to 5-8c; No. 3 soft at 90 1-2@90 1-4c; No. 4 soft at 85@85 1-4c; No. 2 white at 91c.

Corn was more active and dearer. No. 2 at 41c; May at 40@39 7-8c; No. 3 at 40 1-2c; No. 4 at 38 1-2@38 3-4c.

Clover seed opened 5c lower, and regained the loss, and closed firm at an advance of 5c. Prime for cash at $7.35@7.40; March at $7.30@7.35; after change at $7.37 1-2; No. 2 at $7.10@7.15.

CLUBS AND SOCIETIES.

Interesting Meetings Held About the City.

New Century Club—The Isabella Circle—Social Purity Conference—Minor Notes and Future Gatherings

The New Century club held its regular semi-monthly meeting last evening with Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Tillinghast, Mrs. F. D. Jermaine president, Miss Mary Law, secretary. Mr. L. G. Richardson, the appointed essayist of the occasion, being unavoidably called out of the city, his place was filled by Capt C. T. Bateman, who presented an exhaustive study of the idea of the devil, or the spirit of evil, as believed in all ages of the world's history, by the various races of mankind. The Hebrews were not the first nation who evolved the implicit faith in a personal devil which has gained so firm a hold upon the minds of the human race, but borrowed the thought from the sacred literature of the Chaldeans during their captivity in Babylon. A rehearsal of the mystical lore surrounding the ideal existence of his satanic majesty, with copious quotations from the sacred writings of the Chaldeans, Egyptians, Persians, Hebrews, Mohammedans and other oriental peoples, and from Christian literature, notably Paradise Lost, added greatly to the interest of the essay, the discussion of which took a metaphysical turn, in which positive evil and positive good as contrasted and understood at the present day, and in past times, was examined, and the theory advanced that what we call evil, or devil, the opposite of good, or God, is relative, and viewed by us from partial rather than general standpoints of judgment.

The next meeting, March 29, will be held with Mrs. E. Moulton, Monroe street, near Twelfth. Dr. M. H. Parmalee will give the essay.

There was the usual good attendance at the meeting of the Home Aid association at Odd Fellows' temple last night. Two new members were initiated, and six applications for membership received. The dance committee reported that the receipts for dance were very satisfactory. The committee appointed to prepare resolutions on the death of Mrs. Matilda Kleene reported the following resolutions, which were adopted:

Whereas, It has pleased Almighty God, in his infinite wisdom, to remove from our midst Sister Matilda Kleene; therefore be it

Resolved, first—That the sad intelligence of the death of Sister Kleene is received by Home Aid association, of Toledo, O., with feelings of profound sorrow.

Second—That in her demise, our association has lost an energetic and faithful member;—one that was ever ready to respond cheerfully to any call the association interests of our order;—a member who was always cheerful and pleasant socially;—a member and sister who by her virtues had endeared herself to every member of our association.

Third—That we most feelingly convey to the bereaved husband and family of our sister, the heartfelt sympathy of Home Aid associatioin in this their sad affliction.

MRS. K. O. St. JOHN.
MRS. LILLIAN PRATT.
MRS. MARIE CALKINS.
Committee.

At the next meeting, Tuesday evening, March 29, "speling school" will be conducted, which promises to be very amusing as well as instructive.

The spacious parlors of Mrs. Bacon, 2111 Jefferson street, were completely filled with members and visitors at the meeting of the Queen Isabella circle yesterday afternoon. Mrs. R. L. Segur occupied the chair and in absence of the secretary, Mrs. A. P. Stevens, Miss Helen Nolan filled that position pro tem.

Correspondence from Dr. Dickinson was first considered. It announced the disappointing decision of the superintendent of the building committee of the world's Columbian fair that no space would be given within its grounds to either the Isabella pavilion or the statue, hoping, however, to reverse the decision, as the promised hearing had not been given the Isabella association before it was rendered. A later letter, however, conveyed the news that as the women's building is very large an effort will be made to secure some thirty club rooms within it by the Isabella association. From the Bee, the gist of the correspondence given on the subject by Mrs. A. P. Stevens was alluded to.

Mrs. Maud Dutton then gave the paper, "The Naming of America and the Settlement of Florida. She had made a thorough study of the subject and condensed in a sprightly, comprehensive manner the result of the visits of Americus Vispucius, the Italian scholar and literateur, and Ponce de Leon, the vainglorious Spaniard seeking physical immortality, to the shores of the New World. The disappointment in not finding the Fountain of Youth, and the wars which destroyed the labors of the first French and Spanish colonists and the chief points of the early history of Florida, were entertainingly reviewed, leading to a discussion fraught with much instruction touching the methods of human endeavor four centuries ago, when the destructive spirit of war, theft and avarice ruled the world. Mrs. Judge Seney, Mrs. A. E. Ward and others had brought newspaper clippings showing the progress of the work of women for the Columbian Quadro-Centennial Fair, which were read, concluding a very profitable session. The April meeting, on the 19th of that month will be held with Mrs. George Bills, 1301 Erie street, the paper to be given by Mrs. James Melvin upon the voyages and discoveries of Cortez and his companions and the settlement of Chile and Peru.

About twelve ladies assembled at the home of Mrs. Vincent Hamilton yesterday afternoon to make arrangements for the Social Purity conference to be held in Toledo next Tuesday and Wednesday. Mrs. Vincent Hamilton was appointed a committee on place, and it is probable that St. Paul's M. E. church will be secured for this purpose. There will be two evening and one all-day sessions.

The delegates will be received in the church parlors by the following reception committee: Mrs. Phoebe Clark, Mrs. E. S. Fray, and Mrs. J. J. Sumner. The program for the day session, which will be held on Wednesday, will be as follows:

Opening, 10 a. m.—"Devotional Exercises," Mrs. E. C. Olmstead Holland; "Ohio Narcotics and Social Purity," Mrs. Edwards; singing, "Purity in Literature and Art," Mrs. M. E. Bently; Devotional exercises 2 p. m., Mrs. Bently; Equal Suffrage, Mrs. E. S. Fray; "Juvenile Work," Mrs. S. E. G. Kieth; "Mothers' Meetings," Miss Olmstead; "Bible Reading," Mrs. Bartlett; "Travelers' Aids," Mrs. Phoebe Clark; question box.

A meeting of the Day Nursery admission committee will be held at 10 o'clock Thursday morning at 437 Huron street. Mrs. V. Hamilton, chairman.

The Ramabai circle is holding a meeting with Mrs. Peck of Buffalo street this afternoon.

Rev. Jeannette L. Olmstead, state superintendent of Social Purity for the W. C. T. U., will lead a mothers' meeting in the Central Congregational parlors Friday afternoon at 3 o'clock, to which all ladies are cordially invited.

The Toledo Society of Economic Inquiry meets this evening at Steadman Business College. Paper by Mr. A. E. Macomber on "Worth of Corporation."

The Theosophical Reading club meets to-night, instead of to-morrow night, with the Misses Ott, No. 1607 Adams street. Capt. Bateman will read from "The Secret Doctrine."

Bullocks for Market.

Albert H. Rhodes writes from Elk creek, Pa: If we wish to raise bullocks for the market we should first ascertain what kind of cattle can be ripened for the shambles the quickest and with the least expense. And there is an honest difference of opinion on this question, they will have to test it for themselves. From investigation carefully made I have come to the conclusion that the Herefords are the kind of stock to raise for beef. First, they can be made to weigh as much and furnish as much first-class beef at three years old as a short horn at four. This alone is enough to guarantee them as against any other variety. But if you are to raise cows for a dairy you perhaps will require a Jersey or a Holstein, or else a cross between them. The Holsteins have now a record which beats the world, but I do not exactly fancy the way it was obtained. It is claimed it was obtained by giving the cows under the test, all the new milk they would drink from the rest of the dairy. "Ah," say you, "that is not a fair or honest test." We do not claim it as such, yet, still the truth remains that it was a Holstein and not some other breed of cattle which was chosen for the test, and having established a record the breeder can rest on his laurels and wait for some other breeder to raise the record. I shall not give the record, as it is quite near home and I deem it a fallacious one. But there have been many fair tests in our town and the Holsteins have a very good reputation, a little superior to any other. They hold out on their milk rather the best of any. But there is no kind of stock quite equal to the Jerseys for gilt-edge butter which will bring the best price in any good butter market. Now, if the farmer wishes for the best results from a dairy of cows some well-bred Jerseys and a Holstein bull will be about the best cross for such purpose. The Holsteins are a quiet, inoffensive stock of cattle, and are larger than the Jerseys. They will give more milk; the full-bloods and the Jersey will put the color and flavor into the milk and butter. It is no small item to the dairyman, when he has used up a dairy cow, to have one that will make five or six hundred of beef in the room of two or three hundred. This alone has been largely responsible for so many Durhams in our country. They were large, and although they were no more valuable in a dairy than the Devons they made more beef when the cow got past a profitable age in the dairy. If there is anyone who fears horns he should raise Polled Angus stock and thus not only be rid of long horns, but also avoid dehorning them. They too are an excellent variety of stock when well-bred. The best cow I ever owned was a Polled cow, and even when 17 years old she was one of the best cows in our town and raised a valuable strain of cows for us.

CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS.

CURE
Sick Headache and relieve all the troubles incident to a bilious state of the system, such as Dizziness, Nausea, Drowsiness, Distress after eating, Pain in the Side, &c. While their most remarkable success has been shown in curing
SICK
Headache, yet CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS are equally valuable in Constipation, curing and preventing this annoying complaint, while they also correct all disorders of the stomach, stimulate the liver and regulate the bowels. Even if they only cured
HEAD
Ache they would be almost priceless to those who suffer from this distressing complaint; but fortunately their goodness does not end here, and those who once try them will find these little pills valuable in so many ways that they will not be willing to do without them. But after all sick head is the bane of so many lives that here is where we make our great boast. Our pills cure it while others do not.
ACHE
CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS are very small and very easy to take. One or two pills make a dose. They are strictly vegetable and do not gripe or purge, but by their gentle action please all who use them. In vials at 25 cents; five for $1. Sold everywhere, or sent by mail.

The paper had said something he didn't like and he was going to see the editor about it and thump the stuffing out of him, so he said. At the foot of the stairs leading to the den he found a small boy who blocked his way.

"Is the editor in?" he inquired roughly.

"Yes, sir," replied the boy politely.

"Can I see him?"

"I s'pose so, sir."

"Well, I want to. Do I go up this way?"

"Are you Mr. Johnson?" inquired the boy with evident personal interest.

"Yes, I am."

"The same that the paper give it to in the neck?"

"Yes. What's that to you?"

"Nothing much, Mr. Johnson, but I'm your friend."

"No, you don't say," said the visitor, sarcastically surveying him. "Well, let me go on up stairs, won't you?"

"Cert, Mr. Johnson, but before you go into the editor's room you look in the corner by the door and git a dray-pin settin' there. I put it where you could get it easy. You see the editor is lookin' fer you and he's got a big hoss-pistol in his drawer and a hatchet layin' on his desk, and when I see them preparations I jist thought it was a shame for the editor to go fer a man in his old paper and use a hatchet on him besides without givin' him some sort of a show. I ain't nobody but an office boy, but I know what justice is as well as if I was president of the United States. Go right up, but go easy. The dray-pin is in the left-hand corner."

And the man didn't go up.—Detroit Free Press.

THE BEE ON SATURDAY
WILL CONTAIN 16 PAGES.
Bright, Sparkling, Newsy—Only 2 cents.

DREADFUL PSORIASIS

Covering Entire Body With White Scales. Suffering Fearful. Cured by Cuticura.

My disease (psoriasis) first broke out on my left cheek, spreading across my nose, and almost covering my face. It ran into my eyes, and the physician was afraid I would lose my eyesight altogether. It spread all over my head, and my hair all fell out, until I was entirely bald-headed; it then broke out on my arms and shoulders, until my arms were just one sore. It covered my entire body, my face, head, and shoulders being the worst. The white scabs fell constantly from my head, shoulders, and arms; the skin would thicken and be red and very itchy, and would crack and bleed if scratched. After spending many hundreds of dollars, I was pronounced incurable. I heard of the CUTICURA REMEDIES, and after using two bottles CUTICURA RESOLVENT, I could see a change; and after I had taken four bottles, I was almost cured; and when I had used six bottles of CUTICURA RESOLVENT, one box of CUTICURA, and one cake of CUTICURA SOAP, I was cured of the dreadful disease from which I had suffered for five years. I can not express with a pen what I suffered before using the REMEDIES. They saved my life, and I feel it my duty to recommend them. My hair is restored as good as ever, and so is my eyesight.

MRS. ROSA KELLY,
Rockwell City, Iowa.

Cuticura Resolvent

The new Blood Purifier internally (to cleanse the blood of all impurities, and poisonous elements), and CUTICURA, the great Skin Cure, and CUTICURA SOAP, an exquisite Skin Beautifier, externally (to clear the skin and scalp, and restore the hair), have cured thousands of cases where the shedding of scales measured a quart daily, the skin cracked, bleeding, burning and itching almost beyond endurance, hair lifeless or all gone, suffering terrible. What other remedies have made such cures?

Sold everywhere. Price, CUTICURA, 50c; SOAP, 25c.; RESOLVENT, $1; Prepared by the POTTER DRUG AND CHEMICAL CORPORATION Boston, Mass. Send for "How to Cure Skin Diseases," 64 pages, 50 illustrations, 100 testimonials.

The Channel Islands, as represented by ican collection is that possessed by the Brooklyn institute. It is a piece of coarse Egyptian linen, not unlike the momie cloth of the present day, and is supposed to be some 6,000 years old.

If all the locomotives in the United States were coupled together they would make a train of solid iron and steel over 300 miles long. Add the passenger cars and we would have 300 miles more of wood and iron; this would give us a gigantic passenger train 600 miles in length, counting both engines and cars.
